Captain Butler Rejoins Family

Prisoner's Big Day Is Joyous

By MARY LEYDECKER

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE — With a big encircling embrace, Capt. William W. Butler gathered his little family in his arms — a warm but poignant reunion yesterday after more than five years.

For 5-year-old Sheila, who danced excitedly at her father's side, it was the first time she had seen the tall, tanned flyer who was shot down shortly after her birth in 1967.

Her brother Peter, 6, also knew his father mainly from pictures and stories their mother, Julie, had told them.

For Mrs. Butler, who spent the five long years speaking and traveling on behalf of prisoners of war, the first glimpse of her husband brought a look of radiant joy to her face.

She and the children, like other families of returning POW's, were driven up to the returnees' huge plane in a shiny military car.

They waited while another man was greeted by his family, then they spotted Captain Butler coming down the stairs. Little Sheila shrieked "Mommy," apparently afraid she was being left behind as her mother made a dash for her husband.

Peter was already out of the door on the other side of the station wagon — Mrs. Butler turned and paused slightly for Sheila and they all raced to the captain.

In the hugging and dancing and jumping that followed, Captain Butler lost the dark glasses he had worn when he stepped out of the plane.

(He told Mrs. Butler on the phone last week from the Philippines that he had lost some of his eyesight from malnutrition.)

The joyous family finally walked, still in an embrace, toward the reception building, where returnees waited a few moments before being driven either to a military hospital or flown on to other bases.

When Captain and Mrs. Butler emerged from the building again, they were greeted by more cheers and shouts, many from a contingent of about 50 persons from Hamilton Air Force Base.

Also on hand was a big delegation from Walnut Grove in Sacramento County, where Mrs. Butler's family lives.

Butler, apparently recognizing friends in the crowd, which included more than 1,000 persons on hand to greet the former prisoners, walked over to where well-wishers stood by behind ropes.

He hugged and kissed a couple of women he knew, shook hands with men and kept saying, "Thanks so much for coming," to friends.

"He looks just great," a woman friend enthused.

Finally the Butlers drove off in a military car — their destination the hospital at Travis, where he will receive further check-ups for a few days.

The crowd of well-wishers, many of whom carried little flags or large welcoming signs, dispersed in the sunshine. The

Jail Revamp Plan Is Bared

Move Would Trim Power Of Sheriff

By ERIK M. INGRAM

A special county committee has recommended a sweeping reorganization of the county's correctional system, placing many of the functions of the probation and sheriff's departments under a new department of corrections.

The proposal would strip the sheriff's office of its responsibility for running the county jail and soon-to-open honor farm, which then would be given to the department of corrections.

The proposed department also would take over many functions of the probation department.

The master plan was developed by a special county committee headed by San Rafael attorney Hadden W. Roth, a former municipal court judge. The committee was appointed in 1971 by county supervisors to review state studies on prisoner rehabilitation and the closing of San Quentin Prison.

Rumors have circulated for months that the committee "jumped its charge" and was developing a proposal to restructure the county's correctional system.

Committeeman Winifred S. Frederick of Lagunitas quit with a blast at the committee for broadening its study beyond the scope outlined by county supervisors.

Roth, however, when questioned about his committee earlier this year, told the Independent-Journal the committee was simply studying the phase-out of San Quentin, as directed by the board of supervisors.

He denied that any study was being made to shift jail responsibilities from the elected sheriff to an appointed department head.

However, the committee report clearly recommends such action and notes a department of corrections can be given authority "over all county functions, personnel and facilities. . . . relating to prisoners."

Among the committee's other recommendations are several which, if followed, would throw county support behind a propos-

Novato Man Killed, Five Hurt In Head-On Crash

A 61-year-old Novato man was killed and five persons were injured last night in a wrong-way, head-on crash in Novato, and the young driver of one car was arrested on suspicion of manslaughter. (See photo, page 29.)

Killed was William Edward Porter of 1822 Virginia Avenue in the crash at 6:10 p.m. on Virginia Avenue, just west of Grant Avenue, near our Lady of Loretto Church.

Police said a car driven by Gregory T. Giuliano, 18, of 27 Sunnyhill Road, Novato, was speeding, failed to negotiate a turn and ran head-on into the Porter car.

Several witnesses told police that Giuliano's car was traveling west on Grant Avenue at a speed of 45 to 65 miles an hour when it missed the turn at Virginia Avenue.

Instead the Giuliano car, still westbound, went into the eastbound lane of Virginia Avenue, skidded and slid about 138 feet before smashing into Porter's car.

Porter's car was knocked backwards about 185 feet and into a tellephone pole, police said.

Officers said they discovered an empty beer can and one partially empty in the Giuliano car.

Mrs. Porter, 59, suffered fractured right ribs, fractured right hand and facial scrapes, and Helen Mae Doggett, 75 of Vandalia, Ohio, also a passenger in the Porter car, suffered fractured ankles, cuts and scrapes. Both were reported in fair condition today at Novato General Hospital.

Guiliano, who was thrown from his car, suffered a dislocated left hip and facial lacerations. He was reported in satisfactory condition. He was arrested on suspicion of vehicular manslaughter with bail set at $25,000.

Bedayan Arraigned On Murder Charges

Brent William Bedayan, 22, was arraigned today on three counts of murder arising from the slaying of three members of a Mill Valley family before dawn Friday.

Bedayan pleaded innocent to the three counts, and Marin Municipal Court Judge Peter Allen Smith ordered him held without bail until a preliminary hearing April 3.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said he intends to take the slaying case before the Marin County Grand Jury, but did not have a date yet for the action.

Indictment by the grand jury would bypass a preliminary hearing and send Bedayan directly to Superior Court.

Bedayan was arrested early Saturday by Mill Valley police in connection with the murders of Melvin J. Schallock, 61, Ruth E. Schallock, 65, and their son Daniel, 19.

Their bodies were found outside the family home at 217 Summit Avenue. An attempt had been made to set the house afire, police reported.

Judge Smith today refused the request of Frank Cox, deputy public defender, that the probation department conduct a bail investigation.

The judge also imposed a gag order on both prosecuting and defense attorneys and police, barring them from commenting on the case or revealing anything that might be admitted as

POW Held Longest Is Headed For Home

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (UPI) — Wearing a green beret and filled with "sheer delight," the longest-held prisoner of war in U.S. history flew home today with 25 other freed American POWs to see his family for the first time since 1963.

Maj. Floyd Thompson, 39, of New Milford, N.J., wore a big smile and a new Green Beret uniform at his farewell, hugging and kissing members of the small crowd of wellwishers on hand to see the POWs off. He clutched the hand of a 9-year-old boy one day older than his own son, whom he never has seen.

Among the other prisoners bound for the United States was a young Marine who was officially declared dead years ago on a Vietnam battlefield.

Pfc. Ronald Ridgeway of Houston, Tex., was reported killed near Khe Sanh in January, 1968. His mother, Mildred, attended his "funeral," but said she never believed the remains sent to her and buried were those of her son.

Two planes carrying the ex-POWs, released last week by North Vietnam, the Viet Cong and China, cleared all POWs from this "Operation Homecoming" headquarters. Fifty three other freed POWs arrived on the U.S. mainland Sunday aboard flights from Clark.

Officials are now awaiting the last batch of 146 American prisoners to be set free, presumably by the end of March as stipulated in the Vietnam truce agreement.

One prisoner was carried onto his hospital plane today. Army Maj. Theodore Gostas, whose wife lives in Sheridan, Wyo., was under "light sedation" but the nature of his illness was unknown.

Thompson was the senior officer aboard the first flight of 12 men that left for McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey. His C141 Starlifter was scheduled to arrive at McGuire at 5 p.m. EST today. The second C141 carrying the other 14 men for Travis Air Force Base, Fairfield, Calif., two hours after Thompson's plane lifted off.

"It goes without saying we are happy to be starting the next lap of our journey home," said the fit-looking, wiry Green

CAPISTRANO'S SWALLOWS ON SCHEDULE

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO (AP) — The swallows of Capistrano returned to their nests at the mission here today, St. Joseph's Day, as they have for nearly 200 years.

A spokesman for the mission said the birds, returning from their winter nesting grounds in Argentina, appeared shortly after 8 a.m. and descended on the mission "in swarms."

About 300 persons were on hand as the birds returned.

62 Killed In Crash Of Air Vietnam Plane

SAIGON (UPI) — Police said all 62 persons aboard an Air Vietnam DC6 passenger plane being flown by two Americans were killed today when the aircraft apparently blew apart in flight and crashed in South Vietnam's Central Highlands.

South Vietnamese police officials said there were no survivors at the scene of the crash, about 142 miles northeast of Saigon.

The four-engine plane was en route from Saigon to Ban Me Thuot when it crashed. No cause was given for the accident but Pham Duong Hien, director of public affairs, said the weather was "very bad."

An airline source said the green-and-white propeller-driven plane "went straight in from about 2,000 feet while making a landing approach. You know what that will do to a plane."

He said there were no final messages by radio from the two American fliers at the controls, whose identities were not immediately known.

"When your plane blows apart in the air, you aren't going to be sending any messages. You're going to be getting ready to meet your maker," he said.

Hien said there were a "few" foreigners aboard the plane but he did not have a breakdown by nationality. He said the list included 50 adults, three infants, four children and five crew members.

Airline sources said two of the passengers were Japanese. One was identified as Hiromo Wakabayashi, a freelance correspondent on assignment for the weekly magazine of the Dollar Slightly Stronger In World Money Marts

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Major money markets reopened today for the first time in 17 days and the U.S. dollar, helped by monetary reforms, displayed early strength. But bankers and dealers agreed with the warning by one French dealer that "this should not be interpreted as a new faith in the dollar."

They said one key to the quiet, stable trading was the apparent decision by speculators, who caused earlier runs on the dollar, to size up the new situation before making their move.

The money markets closed March 2 in the wake of the Feb. 1 devaluation of the dollar by 10 per cent and the subsequent speculative turmoil that dropped the dollar's value still further.

Since then, leading financial nations constructed a new—if temporary — monetary system which scrapped the old system of fixed exchange rates and relied instead on floating rates.

With the official reopening of money markets, central banks regained the right to intervene if the majr currencies should float too far from each other. But there was no sign of intervention today.

In London, the dollar opened officially at $2.4655 to the pound —up a cent and a half on last Friday's unofficial rate, then dropped back by about one cent. In Tokyo, the dollar opened at 260 yen, then gained strength to 264.

Other capitals told a similar story. In Paris, the dollar opened at 4.5300 francs and strengthened to 4.5350. In Amsterdam, Frankfurt, Zurich and Brussels, it was well up on its Friday closing figure.

In most cases, the quotes today reflected the exchange

Wounded Knee Indians Will Talk Only To Nixon

WOUNDED KNEE, S.D. (UPI) — Leaders of the American Indian Movement said today they would deal only with President Nixon or with an emissary named from among the Sioux Indians in negotiating a solution to the stalemate existing since they seized this hamlet 20 days ago.

The leaders called their proposal a "final ultimatum" to the United States.

Russell Means, one of the militant AIM leaders, said the proposal would be presented to Harlington Wood, the Justice Department's top negotiator with the Indians, for forwarding to the White House.

"We will deal with the President now as the treaty prescribes or we shall defend ourselves against his outlaw nation," Means said. The Indians holding Wounded Knee, a few days ago, declared themselves independent of the United States.

Means said the "ultimatum" was based on the 1868 Fort Laramie treaty which took over

Cambodian Capital Placed Under Siege, Martial Law

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Phnom Penh was placed under an official state of siege and martial law today, with its foreign visitors and residents described as virtual prisoners, following a weekend of bloody violence that included the bombing of the presidential palace and the Communist shelling of a capital suburb.

Government sources said that during the past 48 hours many arrests have already been made, including that of former presidential candidate Keo An. The sources also said several of those for whom arrest warrants had been issued have escaped.

U.S. Embassy officers expressed "grave concern" over one tough new security measure imposed by President Lon Nol that bars the departure of all travelers, including tourists, from the country.

Foreign diplomats were temporarily exempted from the orders, but immigration sources said they too would soon come under the order barring departures. All Cambodian citizens were barred from leaving under any condition.

The only flight out of the capital today was held up as diplomats argued with airport authorities who refused to let them aboard.

The U.S. Embassy and other foreign installations alerted their citizens that Phnom Penh was virtually surrounded by Communist Khmer Rouge troops and warned more attacks could come.

New crackdowns included an extended curfew and a halt of all press operations by nongovernment printing plants.

They were imposed after two 250-pound bombs dropped from a hijacked government fighter plane hit the palace Saturday. Latest official figures showed today that 47 soldiers and their dependents were killed and 40 others wounded. Thirty-seven of the fatalities were cremated in a mass ceremony today.

Lon Nol escaped injury in the attack. He called the attack, apparently the action of a former Air Force captain and son-in-law of deposed Prince Nordom Sihanouk, a "clear attempt to kill me personally."

Communists unleashed a barrage of rockets Sunday on Takhmmau, a resort on the outskirts of Phnom Penh. The village was badly damaged, officials said, and at least nine persons were killed and several others wounded.

Elliott Says Family Accepted FDR's Affair With Secretary

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his secretary, Marguerite "Missy" LeHand, had an intimate relationship that was accepted by his family and his wife, Eleanor, the late president's son said Sunday.

In the second of a Ladies Home Journal condensed series from a forthcoming book, Elliott Roosevelt said "because we had seen the hostility between our parents, it was no great shock to discover that Missy shared a completely familial relationship with Father.

"What did surprise us, later on was the knowledge that Mother knew, too, and accepted the fact like the rest of us."

The book, "An Untold Story: The Roosevelts of Hyde Park," has provoked a statement from Elliott Roosevelt's three brothers and his sister "disassociating" themselves from its contents.

The book said that medical reports on FDR after he contracted polio, stated explicitly that he could perform sexually. It noted that Louis Howe, the president's closest friend and political mentor, brought Mrs. Roosevelt to a closer understanding "that if she could not be a complete wife she had to allow father to have other outlets, so that he could lead a normal sexual life."

When Franklin Roosevelt was governor of New York from 1929 to 1932, Miss LeHand occupied a bedroom connecting Roosevelt's while Mrs. Roosevelt took a back bedroom, an arrangement she considered "perfectly suitable."

"It was not unusual to enter his sunny, corner room and find Missy there in her nighttgown," wrote the late president's second oldest son. "There was no attempt to conceal their relationship. Everyone within the family had come to accept the fact that Missy was a special part of our family."

Warm Springs the spa favored by Roosevelt, was truly a home he shared completely with Miss LeHand "away from mother and granny and they planned the house he built there together," the son wrote. Mrs. Roosevelt never felt comfortable there because it was "father's and Missy's domain."

Elliott Roosevelt, in a statement appended to the article, said some people may feel he has said too much about his parents' private life. But, he said, the truth is better told than alluded to "in veiled sentences."

U.S. Asks For Early Release Of POWs

SAIGON (UPI) — The United States proposed today that North Vietnam advance the date for releasing the last remaining 146 American POWs to next Sunday, paralleling an acceleration of the exchange of prisoners by the two Vietnams.

A U.S. spokesman said the United States proposed that since repatriation of all Vietnamese POWs is due to finish next Sunday—three days ahead of the set deadline—that Hanoi free the final group of American POWs at the same time.

The spokesman said the proposal was made at a meeting of the four-party Joint Military Commission that arranges prisoner exchanges. He said Hanoi did not immediately reply.

The North Vietnamese promised Sunday that it would free the final 146 POWs by March 28, the deadline stipulated in the Paris truce agreement that also set March 28 as the deadline for the total withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Vietnam.

The United States halted its withdrawal program Friday, saying it would resume when the Communists issued the names, date and place of the final POW release.

Col. Bui Tin, head of the North Vietnamese delegation to the Joint Military Commission said Hanoi would issue the details soon.

"You can rest assured we will carry out this matter before the 28th of the month," Tin said. He said it was "very likely" the Commission would discuss the matter later today.

The United States halted the pullout of its remaining 6,308 troops pending the release of the names of the remaining captive Americans, 140 military men and six civilians, and the date and place of their release.

When the truce agreement was signed Jan. 27 in Paris, there were 23,500 U.S. servicemen in the country. The figure stood at 543,000 at the height of U.S. involvement.

A military source said the final prisoner release phase also will include the repatriation of 6,234 Communist POWs and 1,243 South Vietnamese troops. Saigon command spokesman Lt.Col. Le Trung Hien said earlier that the Vietnamese POW exchange would be completed by next Sunday—three days ahead of schedule.

Severe Spring Storm Leaves Southern Michigan Paralyzed

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Southern Michigan remained partially paralyzed today from the state's worst late season snow storm in eight years, and in the South, the search for victims of the worst flood in half a century continued.

Snow was still falling today from the eastern Great Lakes across the northern Appalachians to northern New England. Gale warnings were lowered for Lake Michigan and eastern Lake Superior, but continued in effect for Lakes Huron, Erie and Ontario.

Gale warnings also were displayed for the Atlantic Coast from Maine to New Jersey.

An intense storm off the Washington Coast brought rain to the Northwest Pacific Coast, and gale warnings were posted from northern California to Washington.

Light snow fell over the Northern Plaines with heavier amounts in the central Rockies.

In Michigan, a Washtenaw County sheriff's deputy said the frustration of trying to clear up hundreds of abandoned vehicles on Interstate 94 between Jackson and Ann Arbor continued because people "just still keep going out there. They still think they can get through. We're trying to tell people to stay home."

Jack-knifed trucks and abandoned cars also thwarted attempts to clear the southern portions of the Interstate 75 in Michigan.

More than 500 motorists reportedly spent the night in churches and schools in Jackson and Washtenaw counties. In some areas, no help was available for stranded motorists.

The storm, which began Friday night, dumped nine inches of drifting snow on the Detroit area and as much as 21 inches in Saginaw. State police reported more than 2,600 refugees from the storm in Albion and Marshall Saturday night.

Schools and colleges across the weather-lashed portions of the state cancelled classes today, and the Michigan House of representatives called off its regular session for tonight.

In the South, thousands of residents remained homeless today after a weekend of torrential rains that spawned the worst flooding in the region in 50 years. Damage estimates reached the millions of dollars.

A low pressure system in the Texas Panhandle spread rain and some snow from the central and southern Rockies to the western Plains today. Temperatures early today ranged from 11 degrees at Evanston, Wyo., to 68 at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Saigon, Viet Cong Open Full-Scale Negotiations

PARIS (UPI) — Saigon opened full-scale political negotiations with the Viet Cong today by declaring there can be no free elections in South Vietnam as long as North Vietnam keeps armed forces in the South.

"The right to self-determination naturally demands the stopping of all coercion and outside interference," said Vice-Premier Nguyen Luu Vien, leader of the Saigon delegation.

He told Viet Cong negotiators: "The South Vietnamese people to which you belong cannot freely decide its own future unless all North Vietnamese troops are withdrawn from South Vietnam. How can we discuss seriously" unless this question is settled, he asked.

The political talks started at an 18th Century chateau at Celle-Saint-Cloud outside Paris that once belonged to Madame de Pompadour, famed mistress of King Louis XV.

In downtown Paris at the Kleber Avenue conference center where the Vietnam truce was signed Jan. 27, North Vietnamese and U.S. delegates met again to discuss U.S. postwar aid to Hanoi.

The Celle-Saint-Cloud talks aim at setting up a National Council of Concord and Reconciliation before the end of April as stipulated in the Paris peace agreement. The council's job is to organize elections.

Vien also charged the Viet Cong had handed over only 4,000 prisoners of war out of the 30,000 Saigon claims are in Communist hands and rejected Communist assertions that Saigon held up to 200,000 civilian prisoners.

In opening statements today, both Vien and the chief Viet Cong representative said their task in setting up South Vietnam's future was complicated and difficult.

Singer Is Jailed In Drug Mistake

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — British singer Engelbert Humperdinck was jailed for four hours in Caracas Sunday because a customs guard mistook vitamin pills for dope, a spokesman for the singer said here.

"It was just insane, he was not allowed to communicate with the British consul or anyone else. We are going to make a very strong protest to the Venezuelan government," said Chris Hutchins. "Engelbert is a health food addict, he's the last person in the world who'd fool with drugs."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal Communications Commissioner Benjamin Hooks has defended the First Amendment rights of broadcasters but has voiced opposition to a plan to extend station licenses from three years to five.

Belfast Roundup

BELFAST (UPI) — British troops have launched another roundup of Protestant and Roman Catholic extremists, hoping to remove troublemakers who might use a longawaited British plan for Northern Ireland to create more bloody violence.

Army sources said today the roundup, started during a weekend of bombing and shooting, was in preparation for the publication of the so-called White Paper that will announce London's plans for its troubled Northern Irish province.

Keesee Silent

MARCH AFB (UPI) — The U.S. government has found out what Bobby Joe Keesee, the mysterious Texan, was doing on his private mission into North Vietnam. But neither the government nor Keesee will talk about it.

Keesee, 39, of Amarillo, stunned U.S. officials handling the return of POWs from Hanoi when his name appeared on a prisoner list. At first, no one recognized the name, and no record could be found of any such American's disappearance.

Gray Delay Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., has suggested the Senate delay confirmation of President Nixon's nominee for FBI director until after a special Senate probe of political espionage is completed—a process that will take a year or more.

Ervin, selected to carry out the investigation into the break-in at Democratic National Headquarters and other political sabotage last year, made his suggestion yesterday.

He said he hoped the Senate Judiciary Committee would postpone action upon Nixon's nomination of L. Patrick Gray III as the replacement for the late J. Edgar Hoover "until after the Watergate affair is fully investigated by the select committee."

8 Die In Crash

BARRIE, Ont. (UPI) — A lumber truck, a bus and about 25 cars collided during a blinding snowstorm last night, crumpling the cars "like pieces of tin" and setting off a fire that turned some of the vehicles into burning coffins.

At least eight persons were killed and 50 others were injured. Rescue workers searched for more bodies late into the night and reports from the scene indicated the death toll could go as high as 12.

Witnesses said the accident occurred on the southbound lane of the slippery six-lane route 400, about 50 miles north of Toronto. They said visibility was almost zero as blowing snow and drifts swept across the highway.

Turkey Crisis

ANKARA (UPI) — Unless wrangling lawmakers agree quickly to end a deadlocked presidential election, political sources said yesterday the military will seize full control of the Turkish government.

The sources said members of the National Assembly and Senate would vote one last time today to see if one of three candidates can gain enough support to win the office.

If no winner emerges, the sources said, lawmakers will obey a military order and vote to extend the term of outgoing President Cevdet Sunay for another two years. His 7-year terms ends later this month.

The sources said the most likely outcome is an extension of Sunay's term.

Nixon Weekend

CAMP DAVID, Md. (UPI) — President Nixon and members of his family spent a relaxed Sunday at Camp David as a wind-driven snow swept around the western Maryland mountains. The President returned by helicopter to the White House this morning.

Alaska Pipeline Decision Near

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court signaled today that an early decision will be given in the trans-Alaska pipeline controversy.

The Court did not formally accept review of the case but directed the Wilderness Society and other conservation opponents of the multibillion dollar project to file their views by March 28.

The Court acted at the urging of the federal government, Alaska and the Alyeska Pipeline Service Co., which asked that the case be accepted, heard in mid-May and decided before the term closes sometime in June.

The U.S. Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia ruled Feb. 9 that the Interior Department could not issue permits for the proposed 789-mile pipeline because the width of the right-of-way exceeded the 50-foot limit in the Minerals Leasing Act of 1920.

The line is intended to bring crude oil from the Arctic north slope to Alaska's southern port of Valdez.

Environmentalists contend that the operation would damage the frozen tundra, prove hazardous to wildlife and in general spoil the primitive Alaskan wilderness. The appeals court did not rule whether the environmental impact statement issued by the Interior Department satisfied the requirements of federal law. But the Justice Department urged the Supreme Court to decide both issues because of rising domestic demand for oil and the national security need to curb dependence on foreign supplies.

The Court also:

—Accepted two cases which could set new guidelines in police searches of arrested suspects. The appeals centered on whether a person arrested for a minor offense can be searched to the extent that evidence of other crimes, such as narcotics violations, is uncovered.

—Refused to review the contempt judgment against Newark, N.J., newsman Peter Bridge who spent 20 days in jail for refusing to answer a grand jury's questions about an alleged attempt to bribe a housing commissioner. The action came in a brief order without comment.

—Agreed to consider whether an Indiana law requiring new political parties to file a loyalty oath to get on the ballot is constitutional. Because of the requirement the Communist Party of Indiana failed to get a place on the 1972 election ballot.

—Upheld the constitutionality of state and local governments giving veterans preference in hirings and promotions. It did so by affirming a decision by a three-judge federal court in Minnesota.

—Let stand an appeals court finding that a residency requirement for a person to serve on a federal jury is constitutional.

Girl Is Injured In Auto Crash

A 14-year-old San Rafael girl was hospitalized with head injuries received in a one-car accident early yesterday morning on Ridgecrest Boulevard west of the Mount Tamalpais east parking lot, California Highway Patrolmen reported.

Linda Ludwig of 981 Las Pavadas Avenue was reported in fair condition today at Letterman General Hospital, according to hospital spokesmen.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Joel George Walden, 17, of 255 Canal Street, San Rafael, which went off the road in a one-car accident at 5:30 a.m. Walden was to see his own doctor for minor scrapes and bruises, patrolmen reported.

$13 Theft Brings 4 Arrests

Four youths were arrested Saturday on suspicion of armed robbery after they reportedly took about $13 from three youngsters at knifepoint, Novato police said today.

Booked into Marin County Jail where they were held in lieu of $2,500 bail were Patrick Christian Raymond Carre, 19, of Camp Pendleton, and Michael James Madden, 20, of 1208 Ridgeview Heights, Novato.

Two companions, under the age of 18, were cited to juvenile authorities. Their names were withheld by police on a standing order by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court.

The four were believed to be the persons who drove up to three youngsters on San Carlos Way near San Marin Drive about 10:20 p.m., threatened them at knifepoint and took the youngsters' money.

The four were later arrested after police found them in a Novato pool hall.

Madden was also booked on suspicion of having narcotics paraphernalia after police said they found he had a small brass pipe with him.

Wade Brother Draws Sentence In Dope Case

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — James Wade, 20, of San Rafael, who earlier had pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court to a charge of selling heroin, has been given an indeterminate sentence with the Federal Youth Atuhority.

Wade was sentenced under the Youth Corrections Act, which would limit his maximum term to four years before parole, according to the prosecutor, Paul Fitzpatrick, of the U.S. Attorney's office.

Wade was believed with his brother to be a major source of heroin in Marin County. Agents said John Wade, 30, and James supplied the narcotic to another brother, Jerry Ray Wade, 22, of Santa Venetia.

John Wade, who has pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing heroin with intent to distribute it, is to be sentenced March 30.

Jerry Wade is serving a term in state prison for heroin and bad check convictions.

Judge Spencer Williams gave James Wade a stay on his sentence until next Monday.

The brothers were arrested in June 1972 in connection with a $5,400 heroin sale to federal agents in Daly City.

over 30 Years Experience In Nutrition

HERE'S HEALTH!

By JUNE EMBURY

Some final thoughts about the Food and Drug Administration plan to restrict nutritional supplements. Verification that the orthodox concepts behind this ban are illogical continue to appear in respected publications. One example: A U.S. Department of Agriculture Report No. 2 on HUMAN NUTRITION, available from Washington, D.C. This finds that "Major health problems are diet related." It discusses the need for specific vitamins and minerals in relation to specific diseases and points out that "individuals vary in the amounts of nutrients needed." The publication further finds that deficiencies may appear despite diets considered to be adequate. But the FDA, obviously blind to these facts, would set up rigid conformity to outdated nutrition standards, ignoring individual differences. If this concerns you, an immediate letter to your Congressmn is vitally important. (The Hon. Wm. S. Mailliard, Washington, D.C. 20515, represents Marin.)

al that all law violators — including those now sent to state prisons — be handled on a "local level."

It said the county should encourage state legislation to phase-out the state prison system and to create a new correctional system with local control.

The state's primary function, the committee said, should be "to help establish, fund and advise local corrections, not to directly administer correction. . ."

It added however, that for the time being the state should continue to provide facilities for "a limited number of 'hard-core' cases."

Local "correctional centers" could serve several counties depending on population, it continued, and should have jurisdiction "to coordinate and administer all adult and juvenile offender programs."

Within the new correctional system, emphasis should be placed on "nonconfinement of the offenders with confinement as a last resort," the committee added.

Study, the committee said, shows that offenders should have as much access to the public and social programs as can be provided consistent with security. An "ombudsperson" should be provided to guard inmates' rights, it said.

Furthermore, "local correctional centers should recognize, support and coordinate with crisis intervention centers (such as drug abuse centers) to assist in the prevention of crime.

It said its study showed that Marin County can cause a reduction of crime by working with offenders in programs to develop "fundamental educational and vocational skills and to confront and resolve inner confusions."

Such programs could include Halfway House vocational training with private industry and "pretrial diversion projects" which would give an offender personal and vocational counseling prior to his trial.

Under some circumstances, if the offender indicated he could return to normal life, he could be released without ever coming to trial.

"The traditional approach of locking the jail door and then forgetting the offender until his sentence is served should be discontinued," it said.

While giving no cost figures, the committee said it believed the new system "will accomplish a lower crime rate without increased cost to taxpayers. Indeed, we believe our proposal will decrease both crime and public expense."

The first step, the committee recommended, is the establishment of the department of corrections under the jurisdiction of the board of supervisors.

Under the state's government code, such a department would have jurisdiction "over all county functions, personnel and facilities. . . relating to institutional punishment, care and treatment and rehabilitation of prisoners."

The department would hire its own "custodial personnel" trained in rehabilitative techniques and would coordinate and operate all those services now being offered by other county agencies such as the probation department's work-furlough program.

It would develop new programs and encourage other agencies such as the department of mental health to expand their programs.

An advisory body, appointed by the board of supervisors, should oversee the department, the committee said.

The committee's findings — along with the master plan which was never formally requested by supervisors — will be reviewed tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. by the board.

Bedayan said nothing audible during his half-hour court appearance. While Judge Smith was reading the three murder counts aloud, Bedayan whispered to Cox to ask whether he could sit down, Cox nodded; Bedayan sat and cupped his chin in his hands. He showed no traces of emotion, other than frowning occasionally.

Before the arraignment, Bales refused to comment on possible motives for the killings, nor would he confirm reports from other sources that Bedayan had been undergoing treatment in the Marin Community Mental Health Center. He reportedly failed to show up for an appointment there last week.

Bedayan, an unemployed lifeguard and former grocery store worker, is indigent and unable to afford a private attorney, Cox told the court.

The manager of the Mill Valley Tennis Club, where Bedayan worked as a lifeguard for two and one-half years, characterized him today as "always polite, steady and respectful."

"As far as his lifeguard duties were concerned he did a good job," said Larry B. Bochino, although he said Bedayan ccasionally "was neglectful."

"Personally I can't see him even thinking about doing what he's charged with, although life has some funny twists," said Bochino.

vato, passengers in Giuliano's car, suffered minor injuries and were treated at Marin General Hospital.

Patricia Healey of 1802 Virginia Avenue, who was at a spaghetti supper at the nearby church, said she saw "all those bodies laying around and that was enough."

Giuliano was on the roadway, Collins and Gould lying on nearby lawns, Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Dogget, still in the Porter car and the victim outside his car, she reported.

Mrs. Healey said that speeding has been a problem along the street and "it's just one accident after another . . . it is used as a drag strip. They come around that corner (Grant Avenue at Virginia) too fast. It is happening all the time."

rates established by the Feb. 12 devaluation. U.S. Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz had predicted earlier that, despite the floating rates, most quotes would end up in the Feb. 12 neighborhood.

Thus, the French franc was about 9.3 per cent above its Feb. 9 pre-devaluation dollar rate. The Belgian franc stood about 10 per cent up and the West German mark, one of the world's strongest currencies, was up about 12 per cent. The yen, which had been considered the most underdevalued currency, was up 16 per cent.

Shultz met British Prime Minister Edward Heath and Bank of England Governor Sir Leslie O'Brien in London today, on plans for long-term monetary reform. British sources said Shultz wanted to discuss how these reforms could be speeded up.

The short-term reforms which went into effect today were worked out within the "Group of 10" made up of the world's wealthiest non-Communist nations. The long-term reforms are under study by the "Group of 20," which includes not only the rich nations but also third-world representative of poorer nations looking for a bigger share in international finance.

The "Group of 20" is to meet in Washington next week for the next round of talks on the reforms.

A West German banker predicted the dollar would slip slightly in future days, once speculators get over their initial fear of the float. The dollar now is "a little too firm," he said.

"It is far too early to read anything into the performance of the market at this stage," a London banker said.

long red carpet and the red, white and blue "welcome home" mat, used for all the planeloads of POW's flown into Travis, were rolled up.

The day had been a joyous one and the large number of Northern California men on the plane had brought out one of the biggest crowds of the last few weeks.

"Most of the men were too excited to nap," an officer who accompanied the returnees aboard the plane from the Philippines, said. In the last leg of their flight, the crew allowed them to come forward in small groups to view the Golden Gate, he said, as the pilot made several passes over the landmark.

Butler and the other men also received joyous welcomes in the Philippines and again in Hawaii, where a crowd of about 500 people turned out at 3:45 a.m., local time, to cheer the men.

More festivities are planned for Captain Butler, a 31-year-old Stanford University graduate, when he arrives at his Glenwood home, probably later this week.

Neighbors are working on plans for a festive gathering, which will feature among other things, a pipe band.

Last week Mrs. Butler asked her husband by phone if it was all right if the "neighbors planned something for him."

"He said, 'I'd like to do something for the neighbors — they've been so nice to you,'" Mrs. Butler related.

Tokyo newspaper Mainichi. The other was a language student who was studying Vietnamese.

Hien said the plane was about 10 minutes away from making its landing at Ban Me Thuot when the crash occurred.

It was the first major commercial airliner crash in the country since a Cathay Pacific Convair 880 exploded over the central highlands last June. That crash killed 81 persons.

Autthorities said that crash was caused by a bomb and a Thailand policeman later was arrested on charges of murder.

Nationalities of the victims were not known but airline sources said among the persons on board was a Japanese newsman and a Japanese student.

"But in addition to happiness, there is also sheer delight...In parting, I would leave you with this thought. You will live forever in our thoughts. Goodbye, good luck and God bless you one and all."

Thompson then took from the crowd blond Billy Peebles, son of an Air Force captain based at Clark, and paraded him before reporters and officers at the farewell ceremony.

Billy, Thompson said, was born the day he was captured by the Viet Cong — March 1, 1964. His own son, youngest of four children, was born one day after the Communists captured him.

Ridgeway said litte to anyone, but shook hands up and down the restraining rope holding back the small crowd. He showed flashes of a smile, but mainly retained the somber expression he wore when he arrived March 16 from Hanoi.

Two rows of campaign ribbons and a Purple Heart adorned his khaki Marine uniform as he hugged and kissed about a dozen teen-aged girls in the crowd.

Several courts of law have upheld this treaty, Means said.

Means said that representatives of the "Independent Oglala Sioux Nation" had given some "promising suggestions" to the White House Friday.

The Indians called upon the President to "bring about a restoration of peace and order on the reservation by appointing a special presidential emissary 'selected from among the Sioux' to negotiate within a 72-hour period a reasonable and mutually agreeable settlement permitting the United States to end its siege of Wounded Knee."

OBITUARIES

John B. Wasley Jr., 48

John Burton Wasley Jr., San Rafael artist and advertising manager, died yesterday after collapsing at his home at 704 Tamarack Drive.

He was dead on arrival at Kaiser Fountation Hospital. Cuase of death is unknown pending an autopsy, according to the Marin County coroner.

Wasley, 48, was born in Park Ridge, Ill., and graduated from the University of Iowa school of journalism.

He came to San Francisco where he worked for firms including the Smith Co., Dobson Inc. and Snyder-Newell Inc. as an account supervisor. His present position which he had held for the past two years was advertising and promotion director for Allan Jossey-Bass, educational book publishers.

He was past president of the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce and Terra Linda Art Association. He was a member of Marin Society of Artists, Alpha Delta Sigma fraternity, Theta Chi, Holy Innocents Church in Corte Madera and Church of the Nativity in Lucas Valley.

He is survived by his wife, Charlene, a daughter, Mary Beth, and a son, Jeffrey, all of the home; his mother, Hazel A. Wasley, a sister, Betty Lochen, both of Park Ridge, and a brother, James K. Wasley of Greenbrae.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday at the Church of Nativity. His body will be cremated and the ashes scattered at sea.

Memorial contributions tc Holy Innocents Church, Church of Nativity or the Marin Heart Association were requested by the family.

PETER BACHUS

Funeral for Peter Bachus of San Rafael, a resident of Marin County for 47 years, was Saturday in San Rafael.

Bachus, 83, died Friday in a local convalescent hospital after a long illness.

He was a general contractor for 30 years, operating Bachus Construction Co. in Mill Valley.

Surviving are a son, Willard C. Bachus of San Rafael, a sister, Clara Burkholder of Novato, and a grandchild and great grandchild.

He was a native of Emporia, Kan.

OKE SANDBERG

Memorial service was to be held today for Oke Sandberg, 52, Swedish-born painter and 17-year resident of Marin County.

Sandberg, who had been living with friends in Tiburon, died in a local hospital Friday after a long illness.

A native of Orebro, Sweden, Sandberg had lived in the Belvedere-Tiburon area and in Marshall, where he ran a tavern-restaurant.

He had lived in Massachusetts before coming to California.

A specialist in seascape painting, Sandberg also did carvings and sculpture.

He served in the Russo-Finnish war at 18, the Swedish Merchant Marine and the Norwegian underground against the Germans during World War II. He came to the U.S. at age 25.

Surviving are his three daughters, Ruth Ellen, Ingrid and Karin Sandberg of Tucson, Ariz.; two sisters, Ebba Frenning and Ruth Anne Waftlund of Sweden, and two brothers, Knute Sandberg of Marin County and Wesley Sandberg of New York.

Private family service was held Saturday. The family prefers memorial contributions to the Marin County Cancer Society.

JAMES DRURY

Mass of the Resurrection for James F. Drury, brother of Willis H. Drury of Mill Valley, will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Pius Catholic Church in Redwood City.

Drury, a retired railroad employee, died Friday in a San Francisco hospital after an illness of about two years.

He worked for the Western Pacific Railroad for 43 years, retiring as chief clerk. He had lived in Redwood City 23 years, moving there from San Francisco, where he was born.

He was a member of Feather River Lodge No. 248, Western Pacific Railroad Workers.

In addition to his brother, he is survived by his wife, Marguerite, and a sister, Mrs. Rose Stofan of South San Francisco.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Redwood Chapel in Redwood City. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

GERTRUDE TOMASINI

Funeral for Gertrude Tomasini, 80, long-time Petaluma resident, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

Mrs. Tomasini died Saturday at a Santa Rosa convalescent hospital after a lengthy illness. She was born in Stanislaus County and had lived in Petaluma for more than 45 years.

Mrs. Tomasini's husband, Ulysses, died in 1965. She had worked for Bank of America in Petaluma before their marriage.

Private inurnment will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

ELVI PHILLIPS

Funeral for Elvi Phillips, 65, a three-year Petaluma resident, was held today in Petaluma.

Mrs. Phillips died Friday at a local hospital after a short illness. She was a native of Gibson's Landing, British Columbia, and after living in Vancouver moved to San Francisco in 1946.

Mrs. Phillips lived in San Francisco until three years ago when she moved to Petaluma to make her home with her son, Theodore E. Seaholm of 12 Shady Lane.

She is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. Paul Hagen, Katie Falk and Sara Antilla of Vancouver; two brothers, Vivtor Wilkman of Vancouver and Eric Wilkman of Russia; and two grandchildren.

Burial was at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

WALTER E. SCHUELKE

Funeral for Walter Eldon Schuelke, father of Martha Ellen Schuelke of Fairfax, will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday at Rose Hills Memorial Park in Whittier, Los Angeles County.

Schulke died at his daughter's home Saturday after a short illness. He was 69.

He had been a practicing attorney for more than 45 years and ran for the U.S. House of Representatives as a Democrat from California in the early 1940s.

Schuelke lived in California since 1931, for 20 years in Whittier, where he was a former city councilman and past president of the Whittier Bar Association.

He was at one time an attorney for Allied Properties in San Francisco. He had been living for the past 10 years in San Mateo, where he did legal work for a senior citizens group.

A graduate of the University of Oklahoma, where he received his law degree, he was a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity.

In addition to his daughter, he is survived by a brother, H.W. Schuelke of Oklahoma City, Ok.

MINOR C. VAN ARSDELL

Minor C. Van Arsdell, 84, retired dairy employee, died yesterday at a local hospital after a short illness.

Van Arsdell was born and reared in Santa Clara. He worked for Borden's dairy in San Francisco from 1910 until 1945 when he moved to Petaluma. He worked in several grocery stores after moving to Petaluma. His wife, Irene, died a year ago.

Van Arsdell was a member of Moose Lodge No. 475 of Petalma and Milk Drivers and Dairy Employees Local No. 226 of San Francisco.

He is survived by two grandsons and three great-granddaughters.

Funeral will be held at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma. Private inurnment will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

MRS. POETT

Cynthia H. Poett of Hillsborough, mother of Henry W. Poett II of Kentfield and sister of Horace Hill of San Anselmo, died yesterday in a Burlingame hospital after a long illness. She was 56.

She was a native of San Francisco and a descendant of a family that settled in California in the early 1800s.

She was a member of the Burlingame Country Club.

She is also survived by her husband, Henry W. Poett Jr. of Hillsborough; two daughters, Mrs. David Knott of Ketchum, Ida., and Mrs. Edward Leonard of Atherton; a sister, Margaret Hill Haley of Sacramento and seven grandchildren.

Memorial Mass will be held at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Catherine's Catholic Church, Burlingame. Inurnment will be private.

The family prefers memorial contributions to the American Cancer Society, 1517 B. Street, San Mateo.

ARTHUR MENZIES

Funeral for Arthur L. Menzies, assistant director of plant accessories for Strybing Arboretum in Golden Gate ark, will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Russell and Gooch in Mill Valley.

He died Friday at his home at 110 Laurel Avenue, Stinson Beach. He was 57.

He was born and reared in Los Angeles. He was in the Army at the time of Pearl Harbor and was captured on Bataan and held prisoner by the Japanese for five years.

After the war he went to work as a horticulturist. He worked for the arboretum in San Francisco for 20 years. He and his wife, Barbara, who survives him moved to Stinson Beach six years ago.

He was a member of the Strybing Arboretum Society, California Horticultural Society, Royal Honor Society in England, Alpine Garden Society and Scottish Rites Garden Society.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by three daughters, Anne Menzies and Tessa Newson both of San Francisco and Cindy Gilmore of Kentfield and three grandchildren.

Burial will be private.

Youths Handed Long Terms In Mugging Attack

BIRMINGHAM, England (UPI) — A judge today imposed a 20 year sentence on a 16-year-old boy who pleaded guilty to attacking a man with a brick and robbing him of five cigarettes, a bunch of keys and 74 cents.

Two 15-year-old boys who admitted joining 16-year-old Paul Storey in the mugging attack on Robert Keegan, 31, drew 10 year terms.

Storey was convicted of attempted murder and Mustapha Fuat and Joseph Duignan, who admitted kicking Keegan, of wounding with intent to do grievous bodily harm.

About 50 Miners Die In Explosion

NEW DELHI (UPI) — About 50 miners were killed in an underground explosion Sunday night in Jitpur colliery in Eastern Bihar state, 170 miles east of Calcutta, a government official said today.

The cause of the explosion was not known, Ganguli said.

Two Held In Attempt At Market Burglary

Two San Anselmo youths were arrested yesterday following an apparent attempt to burglarize the Stop and Go market at 807 San Anselmo Avenue.

Michael Edward Bernardi, 18, of 86 Valley Road, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of attempted burglary and held in lieu of $1,000 bail to appear today in Marin County Jail on suspicion of resisting arrest and released on $500 bail to appear Thursday in Marin Municipal Court.

Police said they found Bernardi next to a fuse box at the market at 12:16 a.m. yesterday shortly after someone had broken the box and doused the lights inside the store. The store has been hit many times before by thieves who break into the fuse box, douse the lights and steal liquor, police said.

Williams, in a crowd of about 30 youths milling outside the market, demanded that Bernardi be released and later appeared at the police station loudly protesting the arrest and interfering with officers, police said.

Girl, 9, Reports Indecent Exposure

A 9-year-old girl was the victim of indecent exposure about 3:45 p.m. yesterday at t. Isabella's School on Manuel T. Freitas Parkway, San Rafael police reported.

The man was described as Caucasian, in his mid 30s, with black hair. He was wearing a white shirt and shorts, police reported.

Lamp Shade Theft

A thief pried a window and stole three lamp shades valued at $150 from Past Tense Antiques, 711 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, on Saturday or Sunday, police reported today.

I LOST 600 POUNDS

THE SAME 10 POUNDS 60 TIMES. DIETS? I'VE TRIED THEM ALL.

1. I lost weight so slowly, I got discouraged & quit.
2. I had weird cravings. I would have killed for a hot Fudge Sundae!
3. One slip and my will power disappeared. The result? An eating orgy until I gained back everything I lost.
4. Ten days on a diet, and I became too cranky and irritable to live with.
5. I became depressed, and after each failure, hated myself a little bit more.
6. I found I couldn't tolerate hunger, it was no fun to starve.

DOES THIS SOUND LIKE YOU?

Well I have solved all these problems. After 4 years of research, I developed a natural method of losing weight, and lost 55 lbs. in 2½ months. NO hunger! NO depression! NO cravings! ½ lb. to 1½ lbs. a day. I've shared this method with hundreds. I'll share it with you. If you're interested call us or write and we'll send you a tape cassette that tells the whole story. If you don't have a tape player or can't borrow one call for an appointment and come in and listen to it.

Moratorium Ordinance Reading Due

The Mill Valley City Council will hold second reading on a building moratorium ordinance when it meets at 8 p.m. today at city hall.

The moratorium will have no effect on building in the city as a ban on sewer hookups — effectively blocking development — still is in effect in Southern Marin.

The ordinance would, however, prevent builders from filing with the city plans for subdivisions of five or more units, planned unit developments or planned residential developments.

The ban would last one year and could be extended for a second year. It is intended to give the city time to rewrite the Mill Valley general plan.

The council will also hold first reading on a new animal control ordinance; discuss the tenancy of the city-owned bus depot; consider an appeal of planning commission approval of a use permit allowing the Sweetwater Bar, 153 Throckmorton Avenue, to serve food, and hold a hearing on an environmental impact report on the master plan for improvements to Miller Avenue near La Goma Street.

Survey Of Pollution In Canal Considered

The science department of San Rafael High School has agreed to conduct a pollution survey of the San Rafael Canal if funds for pollution detection equipment can be raised, Eugene F. Sweeny, chairman of the San Rafael Canal Development Committee, said today.

The committee, a wing of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, has estimated that about $500 worth of equipment will be needed for the study, Sweeny said.

Sweeny said citizens interested in helping fund the study may send contributions to the chamber office at 824 Fifth Avenue.

The pollution level of the canal will have a vast impact on the local cost of future dredging operations since tough federal regulations prohibit dumping of heavily polluted spoils in nearby bay waters.

The chamber months ago asked the College of Marin Biology Department to undertake the study as a student project, but never received a reply, Sweeny said.

Costs of the pollution study have ranged from a College of Marin estimate of about $50,000 to a county department of health services estimate of $5 per sample taken.

Five Coffees Set For Councilman

Five campaign coffees for incumbent councilman Lawrence E. Mulryan, seeking his first full term on the San Rafael City Council, have been scheduled.

Mulryan will speak at 9 p.m. Thursday at the Joseph Youmans home, 40 Harcourt Street; 8 p.m. Friday at the John Gibbs home, 456 Nova Albion Way; 8 p.m. Sunday at the Harry Winters home, 201 Spring Grove Avenue; 8 p.m. March 27 at the Ruth Rozen home, 53 Parkridge and 8 p.m. March 28 at the Milton Hollenberg home, 76 Cullodon Park Road.

Waterbeds Firm Loses $307 To Thief

Someone broke the door to Western Waterbeds Inc. at 1328 Fourth Street, San Rafael between 6 p.m. Saturday and 11:30 a.m., yesterday, and took $307 cash, San Rafael police reported.

100 of these TV sets will be given away nationally

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Important Decision Faces New Boards

Any new members elected to school boards in San Rafael, Shoreline and Novato districts next month will promptly have opportunities to participate in the most important decision a school board is called upon to make.

We refer to the choice of a new superintendent. The description of it as the most important decision a school board ever makes is not our own. It has been so described repeatedly by (among others) H. Thomas James, longtime dean of the school of education at Stanford University and now a leading education consultant.

SAN RAFAEL Supt. John F. Plank and Shoreline Supt. Charles E. McCully last week announced their resignations as of the end of this school year. Plank has taken a job as superintendent of an American school in Singapore. McCully will succeed another former Marinite — Kenneth M. Forry, who was the last superintendent of the Fairfax-San Anselmo-Kentfield confederation before its collapse — as superintendent across the bay in Albany.

Supt. James G. Bunker of Novato has announced he will retire at the end of the 1973-74 school year.

Board members elected in other districts may also find themselves participating in choosing new superintendents, for school administrators are fairly mobile and it is unheard-of to hold one to completing the term of his contract.

Those elected in Novato, however, are sure to participate in selecting a successor to Bunker. And unless the San Rafael and Shoreline boards act with unexpected and indefensible haste, those elected in these districts will participate in deciding who will succeed Plank and McCully.

IN ALL THREE cases, the choice is perhaps even more important than the usual run of superintendent selections — important though they are.

McCully is the first superintendent of Shoreline Unified district. He participated in its formation, on loan from the county schools office, and the board decided to keep him on the job. The task of setting up the new district and establishing its high school in new quarters was a highly demanding one. He did it well.

Plank took over in San Rafael on the departure of Supt. Bert C. Corona, whose tenure had been marked by controversies. He succeeded in smoothing the waters.

Bunker had perhaps the toughest assignment. Novato was sharply divided over the ouster of Supt. William J.J. Smith, who had headed the district since it was unified and previously was superintendent of Novato Elementary School District. The division extended also to the schools' staffs. And it was aggravated to some extent by absorption of the former San Jose Elementary School District, which had been a free-spending, free-wheeling district in contrast to Novato's essentially conservative and necessarily economical one. Bunker not only weathered the storm but guided expansion during a period of rapid growth while keeping costs down.

HOW THE BOARDS go about replacing these men is important, too. Will they turn the selection over to "screening committees" staffed by professional educators? Will they let the employees — the faculties — have the say on who is to be boss? Will they expect volunteer citizen committees to do the job? Or will they do it themselves?

These are questions the candidates should be called on to answer.

'THE POLITICS OF DEATH'

S.F. Supervisors Stymie Doyle Drive Widening

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

The political compulsions that power San Francisco supervisors again have run over the best interests of the citizenry.

At issue is the deadly San Francisco approach to the Golden Gate Bridge, which the state had planned to widen as early as next year — until the supervisors pandered to a hysterical antifreeway minority and demanded that two lanes be cut off the project.

The prime mover behind the angry resolution to the state was Supervisor John L. Molinari. He acknowledged to us that he knew cutting the project to six lanes would cut the roadway's present capacity by 25 per cent and back up more than 1,000 cars across the span into Marin. The whole idea of his resolution, he said, was to worsen congestion to force more commuters into buses.

MOLINARI ADDED he would support expansion of the bridge district's bus fleet to handle increased commuter patronage. But he forgot the buses will be stuck in the same traffic jam he helped aggravate.

Flashing a smile, he conceded his stand earned him political credits in the Marina, which gets most of the commuter traffic. "They're carrying me on their shoulders," he said. You almost could see him look upward to higher office.

The fact seems to be that the state will not consider building such a substandard project, so it will be stymied indefinitely again.

Meanwhile, of course, the death and carnage will continue. Contrary to Molinari's attempt to heap all the blame on the state, we see the responsibility as his and his fellow supervisors'.

A RECENT COURT case held that public officials are liable personally when they fail to correct a known hazardous condition. By coincidence, Molinari is a director of the Golden Gate Bridge District, which owns part of the approach. He may find his own resolution backfiring.

Bridge officials already have looked into getting insurance to protect them from such personal suits, but found it is an uninsurable liability because nothing has been done to eliminate the danger along the narrow roadway.

The Division of Highways, of course, could make an exception to its policy of not overriding local objections. San Francisco, however, the city that knows how not to do something, surely could find a roadblock if the state tried to go ahead and build an eight-lane project.

A possible compromise was offered by San Francisco Supervisor Peter Tamaras. He suggested reserving the middle two of the eight lanes for buses. This would add from $1 million to $3 million to the $14 million cost of the project, but two-thirds of th' addition might qualify for a federal transit grant.

Molinari's position, incidentally, is supported by state Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco. Keep that in mind when he runs for governor.

TODAY'S WORLD

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

News Turns Out To Be Highly Humorous

Thank you for your issue of this date (March 7), it made the day for me. I refer to your lead articles, "North Marin sees no present water shortage." After having 52-plus inches of raindrops falling on my head, this is most reassuring.

"Inexpensive steak with potatoes." After having shopped at the local supermarkets I did not realize such a thing existed; in fact I had decided that it was certainly an endangered species.

Lastly "Marsh plan threatens mice and birds." Next time my cat comes in with a mouse in its teeth I shall check for the mouse's grooved upper incisor, etc., before I will know whether or not I should congratulate the cat or condemn it.

Thank you for reporting the lighter side of the news.

Firemen's Circus Accused Of Gouges

Well, it is nice that the Fireman's Association did apologize for that colossal boondoggle of a circus, but I have a few other bones to pick with them, and would like g public explanation.

When the fireman called (and he said he was a fireman, not an employee of the circus), I initially refused his offer on the basis of my previous bad experience with the policeman's circus. . .Well, this smiling fireman, or whatever he was, assured me absolutely that two children's tickets would get one adult in —he did not offer to send me adul tickets instead of children's — it was only on the day of the circus that I discovered most people had been offered a package of two adult tickets and three children's tickets for $6. We again had to pay $15 for 15 tickets.

Then, of course, when I arrived Thursday afternoon with 13 children, we were turned away. Did you ever try to deal with the disappointment of 13 children at once? That night my husband and two other adults took six children to the circus — they were informed that two children's tickets wouldn't do it and had to pay $3.50 apiece. And it wasn't a very good circus, and the gimmicks to part parents from their money on children's behalf were even worse than usual.

I personally, want a refund of $10.50, and no other charity of this type better ever knock on my door again.

Ferry Terminal Not Altering Ecology

Some erroneous information has apparently crept into the Audubon Society's study of the Ross Valley Delta as reported in last night's (Marin) Independent-Journal.

Contrary to a statement in the study, no marsh lands will be removed to accommodate the new Larkspur ferry terminal. The planners are taking great pains to preserve all areas of ecological significance at the terminal site.

The study also asserts that a 300-foot wide channel will be dredged into Corte Madera Creek. This is also incorrect. At the bay end the channel will be 250 feet wide. It will narrow down to the existing width of the arm of the creek where the terminal will be located.

An in-depth environmental study is now under way at the Larkspur ferry terminal site. All matters relating to the ecology of the area are being carefully analyzed. Should changes in the terminal's preliminary design or configuration of the channel be indicated by results of the study, this will be done.

Those concerned about maintaining the ecological health of the Ross Valley Delta should be aware that the Golden Gate Bridge, Highway and Transportation District shares this concern. And it should be noted that before any construction or dredging is undertaken there will be a careful review of all plans by Bay Conservation and Development Commission, the Bay Region Water Quality Control District,, and the U. S. Corps of Engineers, among other important agencies.

Tamalpais Disclosures Give Rise To Concerns

During the past weeks we have been informed through seemingly endless disclosures of the shocking state and quality of education in the Tamalpais High School District.

Indeed much of that reported has also led to serious concern regarding the competence of the board itself and the position it occupies in the eyes of the school administrators and faculty.

A reader is caused to wonder whether the board is aware of its functional responsibility to the community and whether it realizes the school system is the tool of the community and not vice versa.

Included in the recent revelations were the astonishing remarks of the "educational leader" of Tamalpais High School to the effect that he intended to de-emphasize the "three R's" in the very school in which it is needed most. . .In consequence of wide criticism generated by the preceding remarks, the board requested that the "educational leader" submit to it a statement of his educational philosophy. Could he have been hired by the board in complete ignorance of that philosophy?. . .

Presently we are witnessing the ludicrous attempt to justify the use of a questioned situation presentation in conjunction with an English examination. Justification appears to be based on the circumstanc s that the situation "i: real," "it's what's happening," "the students are familiar with the words and acts described," "the interest of the students must be whetted," etc. Well, I presume under this justification umbrella, the teacher could have even injected some personal sexual experiences to further enhance student interest in the subject matter, and to increase her own popularity (teaching effectiveness) by showing the students that she? is "with it". . .

Incidentally, by what authority did the board "enthusiastically" grant nonvoting membership to a selected student? Why is there such great effort to flatter the inexperienced by giving them the notion that they can make truly intelligent, and practical contribution toward resolution of issues before the board? Is it all just an adult popularity endeavor? Or an effort to descend into the moral and intellectual abyss in which too many of our students find themselves in part because of the treatment accorded them by "well-intentioned" but inane adults?

THE NEEDLE

By HAROLD COFFIN

The new mailman uniforms featuring Bermuda shorts are being applauded by most citizens — and all dogs.

Seems a bit drastic to bare the mailman's legs to canines just because folks have been barking about the delivery service.

A friend of ours has a pedigreed pup who is so snooty he refuses to bite any postal employe of lesser rank than the postmaster.

If mail service is as inefficient as claimed, how come all our bills are delivered so promptly?

Truth is, the new mail executives are living up to their promise to run the Postal Service just like Big Business — by constantly increasing the price of stamps.

Mellowed Agnew Extends Hand Of Friendship To The Press

Vice President Agnew may be sensing a small political hurricane heading north from Texas. At the annual Gridiron Dinner he did more than toss an olive branch to the press; he tossed the whole tree.

He wanted it understood that he had no hostile quarrel with the newsmen, no wish to perpetuate rancor. He said he supported a free press.

It was the ideal audience for Agnew to smooth ruffled feelings — publishers, editors, politicians, Washington correspondents.

"Who can win a landslide?

"The Agnew man. The Agnew man can.

"The hatchet man 'cause he's mellowed and he's sweet.

"He may be hard to beat."

Agnew left the impression that from now on he was indeed going to be "mellow and sweet."

MOSCOW'S NEW WAY TO CONTROL WRITERS. The Soviet Union is signing the Universal Copyright Convention. Nice for foreign authors. They'll get some royalties for books published in Russia. Sounds ominous to dissident Russian writers; they may be in more trouble than ever.

Many of the greatest living Russian writers, like Solzhenitsyn, Sinyavsky, Daniel, Amalrik, the Medvedev brothers, cannot get their works printed in Russia. They can only be published abroad.

Now all the Soviet government would have to do to suppress these and other authors from publishing abroad is to copyright their works and refuse to give permission to western publishers to publish them.

WANT A PART-TIME JOB? That is what more Americans are wanting and getting. The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that nearly 13 million Americans are now working part-time. This figure is nearly twice what it was 10 years ago.

This is by choice. They just don't want full-time jobs. For the most part they prefer less money, less pressure, more leisure. It's a new lifestyle.

WILL RISING FOOD PRICES END FARM SUBSIDIES? If consumers have their way with Congress — and they are a powerful lobby — it will be impossible for farm-state politicians to continue to subsidize set-asides acreage in face of mounting prices.

The need today is not to discourage but to increase production to keep prices in check at home and to sell abroad — to Russia and China.

ITEM FOR OBITUARY COLUMN. The marine scientist, Dr. Jacques Piccard, predicts there will, if present pollution continues, be no life in the oceans of the world in 25 years.

He says the Baltic will be first to go. Then the Adriatic, next the Mediterranean.

One report estimates that pollution from oil transport activities alone amounts to one million metric tons and that the total from all human activities is 10 times greater.

FRANCE AND CHILE VOTE AGAINST MARXISM. French voters returned the Gaullists to power for five more years but narrowed their parliamentary majority. The Socialists weakened themselves by linking up with the Communists. The results showed that the nation wanted change but not at the price of putting Communists in the government.

Marxist President Salvador Allende continues to head a minority government in Chile. Divided opposition put him there but because the opposition did not muster 60 per cent, the anti-Marxist congress cannot remove him during the remainder of his five-year term.

Man Who Has Been There Calls For Strip Mining Halt

WASHINGTON — When Arnold Miller became president of the United Mine Workers last fall, there was some big-city speculation about whether he was competent to run a major union, and whether he was his own man or just a front for fast-talking lawyers who wanted to gain control of the UMWA.

My early, tentative conclusion was that his main strength lay in the fact that he was a rank-and-file miner from Cabin Creek, W.Va. — where a man learns the coal business from the bottom up, and where he also has to learn to stand up for himself.

That conclusion looks better all the time. Miller, in taking control, has made a few technical mistakes that are not the kind any slick lawyers would let their patsy make. But he has left no doubt at all about who is running the union, about whether the banks and boards and officials are in charge or the miners themselves.

HERE WHERE CYNICISM abounds, some of my colleagues were surprised this week when Miller told Congress he opposed strip mining where the land thus destroyed cannot be restored. That seemed heresy to those who accept as gospel and cliche that controlling stripping means knocking miners out of work.

What Miller said was, "We cannot allow the corporate interests in their zeal for profits to destroy our ecological balance, destroy our land and create panic among those who labor to produce the wealth of our country."

What Miller's discredited predecessor, Tony Boyle, said two years ago was that the federal government should set some stripping standards for the sake of consistency and should make money available for reclamation of stripped areas. But to talk about abolishing stripping, according to Boyle, was just "grandstanding."

THE DIFFERENCE was in point of view. Boyle, from his grand office in the UMWA headquarters building here, issued namby-pamby recommendations that differed hardly at all from what the mining companies were advocating — to head off stricter, meaningful laws. Miller, who now occupies that same office in much less luxurious style, spoke as rank-and-filer whose first concern is what strip mining does to the people and the land. He has seen it, too much of it, firsthand.

The witnesses trying to convince Congress that stripping needs no more controls than a few figurative threads loosely tied around its gigantic draglines are not people who live in the valleys where the stripping overburden comes crashing and oozing down to ruin their homes. The lobbying associations restraining the congressional effort to pass federal controls are not associations of working people from the mountains, but of coal corporations headquartered in New York or somewhere else afar.

In West Virginia itself, benighted by the black riches beneath its surface, and in the surrounding coal states and others where the stripping shovels have just arrived, people develop painfully well-informed opinions on the subject.

REP. KEN HECHLER of West Virginia, who has made his crusade against stripping the central cause of his personal and political life, testifies with passion that "the hills of Appalachia are bleeding," and that the people are not going to stand by and watch strip miners rip up their homeland any longer. Because of his dedication he may seem an extremist beside the operators' elaborately reasonable lobbyists, who profess willingness to accept minimum controls like those in the Nixon administration's bill.

But Hechler has allies who also can see through the administration proposal. Rep. John Melcher of Montana calls it a "business as usual" bill that should be buried promptly. The moderate Sen. Mike Mansfield says the effects of stripping on Montana will be "astounding," and the best thing might be an absolute moratorium on it until new controls are firmly established and operating.

It may take eyes that have been seared by the sight of stripping on hills and valleys close to home to perceive the threat in the measures put forth by the operators and the administration. Those bills consciously would allow destruction to continue while government slowly gears up to administer gentle controls. Any undecided legislator who does not realize that the day after tomorrow is too late will do well in this matter to trust the word of men like Hechler, Melcher and Mansfield — and of Arnold Miller, who has been there.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

March 19, 1963

The First District Court of Appeal upheld the legality of Marin County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel's cycle reappraisal program.

Roy A. Brown, publisher of the Independent-Journal, offered to buy the old city hall at Fifth Avenue and A Street and lease the site back to the City of San Rafael for 10 years for a parking lot.

20 YEARS AGO

March 19, 1953

Attorney Philip A. Kennedy of San Rafael told Marin County supervisors that a client was willing to build a $1,250,000 addition to the courthouse and give the county use of all except the main floor.

Rain totaling 3.79 inches within 24 hours fell in San Rafael.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By PAT PERRY

A Bird Watcher By Any Other Name Would Scream As Loudly

Conservationists are called many things by many people in Marin County, and frankly, developers' terminology tends to verge on the unprintable.

In San Rafael they're called the Green Panthers.

In Corte Madera they're called the Marshans.

But how many of you realize that you can spot a militant ecologist's home simply by looking in the garden?

Look for Tiger Lilies, Burning Bush, Sword Ferns, Snapdragons — and, of course, Impatiens.

THE COMMITTEE SYSTEM that governs College of Marin came in for some criticism from the 1996 accreditation commission, which said its 16 committees slowed up the governing process.

The 16 committees were winnowed down to the seven which presently exist (although some of these have reproduced and brought forth offspring subcommittees.)

And to decide whether the system is working out, it's going to be evaluated Saturday.

No prizes for guessing how the committee system is going to be checked out — by a brand new committee.

DROPPING ENROLLMENTS in California schools are supposed to be attributed to a lower birthrate, but someone in the Marin County schools office has discovered the statistics show something else.

Enrollment in California elementary schools this year dropped 1.6 per cent in third grade, 2.6 per cent in fourth grade, 1.5 per cent in fifth grade, and so on.

In kindergarten it dropped 1.8 per cent.

But in first grade it dropped 5.8 per cent, and in second grade 5.7 per cent.

Why the staggering difference for those two years? Well, said my administrator informant, kids in those grades are six and seven years old. They were born in 1966 and 1967.

"That was the height of the anti-war protesting," he theorized, "so you can only presume that young people were too busy protesting to have time for the other."

AS PART of its new image, the Army is going in for community projects. On April 14 and 15 hundreds of soldiers will descend on Larkspur to help set up playground equipment in Dolliver Park, all free of chage.

I mention this only to allay the fears of residents, who might wonder if the Army Corps of Engineers was sending out the troops to repossess its incomplete flood control project.

Fire Calls Decrease Despite Dry Season

Despite an especially dry summer fire season, the Marin County Fire Department responded to fewer fire calls and fought fewer grass, brush or forest fires in 1972 than 1971, according to Marin County Fire Chief Richard D. Pedroli's annual report.

In 1972 the department answered 449 calls compared to 494 in 1971. Grass, brush and forest fires also dropped slightly to 209 in 1972 from 219 in 1971.

Pedroli called the 1972 summer period "one of the most critical fire seasons" in department history because of a previous winter of below average rainfall. But he noted that the dry period was cut short by early fall rains.

A total of 259 acres burned in 1972 compared to 211 in 1971 and 759 in 1970.

The largest grass fire anywhere in the county burned 47 acres on August 7 on Azalea Hill in the Alpine Dam area just off Bolinas-Fairfax Road. The largest grass fire inside a city burned 40 acres just off Canyon Road in Novato on July 5. The department assisted city fire fighters in controlling this blaze.

Airplanes from the State Division of Forestry made chemical drops on four county fires on open land in 1972.

Because of an influx of illegal campers who increase fire hazards, the department increased its patrols on Mount Tamalpais. The Marin Municipal Water District doubled its patrols of watershed lands for the same reason.

Although the department's structural fire calls increased to 98 in 1972 from 60 in 1971, the estimated value of damage in these fires decreased to $268,000 from $452,343.

The largest structural fire in 1972 caused an estimated $38,000 in damage to building and contents of the M. Jansen residence at 44 Meadow Way, San Geronimo.

In 1972 the department answered 430 emergency calls compared to 275 in 1971. These calls ranged from searching for lost children to pumping out flooded basements.

A total of 103 calls was answered by the department's Point Reyes Station ambulance in 1972.

The department also fought 44 vehicle fires, answered 69 resuscitator calls, made four coastal cliff rescues of climbers in the Point Reyes Station area and answered 34 false alarms.

Novato To Air Building Code

Novato City Council will review the draft of an ordinance to regulate building in the city's flood plan near South Novato Boulevard at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the community house.

Councilmen on March 6 placed a 90-day moratorium on construction in the area to gain time to set up an ordinance to control future development.

The council also will consider amending the Novato Square Master Plan to eliminate the use permit requirement for "sit down" restaurants. The amendment results from a $300,000 claim filed against the city for failure to permit a Taco Bell restaurant in the square.

Enigmatical T. S. Eliot Returns To Puzzle Television Watchers

T. S. Eliot was back on the scene, as magisterial as ever. Or at least as magisterial as a man can be when reconstructed out of fragments of home movies, blowups from family albums, and staged interviews with surviving friends. All of which constitutes that art form known in television biography circles as a reverent — if baffled — tribute.

"The Mysterious Mr. Eliot," the BBC production titled itself, as if its subject were first and foremost an enigma. "So this was a poet in the Old Days," some subliminal voice seemed to be marveling.

Today a poet is more or less taken to be a Wild Man, in ecstasy or in agony but always unbottoned, shouting until all the tea cups in all the drawing rooms are shattered forever. Allen Ginsberg and Dylan Thomas pass nicely as poets. Robert Frost will do in a pinch. At least he let his pants bag and his hair hang subversively loose.

BUT T. S. ELIOT? The man not only dressed like a banker, he was one. Elegantly handsome in his dark suits, he had a voice to match, invariably courteous, a little sepulchral, ready for the fall of a line, not unreminiscent of the clergyman in "Beyond the Fringe."

Eliot could appear a near-parody of the Gentleman. Horses and even cows frightened him. The London club was his appropriate backdrop.

Yet how deceptive all this business of life-style can be! What an ease-filled, goldplated life the shaggy, counter-culture man of letters may lead today by comparison with Eliot's! The year after he published "The Waste Land," Eliot was working at Lloyd's Bank for 600 pounds per annum — a fair night's fee today for a Wild Man or Wild Woman getting all the demons together on the poetry-reading circuit.

IF ELIOT'S life-style was misleading, his poetic style was even more so. The cursing, snarling, studied madmen and madwomen at the confessional extreme of latter-day poetry may leave the impression of heart and nerves bared. But, in fact, the fastidious bank clerk who wrote "The Waste Land" bore witness to far darker nightmares.

No voice of agony — no "Howl!" — has exceeded his quiet, scholarly tone of despair. He promised his reader, "I will show you fear in a handful of dust," and he kept that terrible promise — without once fluffing his impeccable diction.

What may be most remarkable is that Eliot, and Eliot alone of the great contemporary despairers, spent the rest of his life trying to find his way out of the "waste land."

He became a royalist in politics, an Anglo-Catholic in religion, and wrote essays with titles like "Tradition and the Individual Talent," in which he said: "Poetry is not a turning loose of emotion, but an escape from emotion; it is not the expression of personality, but an escape from personality."

Heresy to the feelings-and-authenticity '70s!

THE LATER ELIOT was, in one reader's words, "an ethical poet bent upon redeeming the times." He may have preached salvation in the well-bred accents of drawing-room comedy, like "The Cocktail Party," but he was preaching, and the subject was salvation.

Aristocratic, even elitist, Eliot must appear an anomaly to the '70s, not only as a poet but as a man. He was a rebel in a bowler with a rolled umbrella who perfectly articulated the modern spirit — and then fled before it. Yet he remains perhaps the one 20th century poet who cannot be ignored, in the same sense that Dante and Milton cannot be ignored by those who wish to understand their ages.

In "The Rock" Eliot asked himself and all the human beings of his ultra-sophisticated, ultra-troubled times:

Where is the Life we have lost in living?
Where is the vision we have lost in knowledge?
Where is the knowledge we have lost in information?

His own answers can be debated. But nobody has asked these quintessential 20th century questions with more courage, more perspicacity, and finally more goodness.

Supervisors Set Round On Salaries

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, meeting tomorrow at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center, will consider a proposal that the county grand jury be asked to evaluate supervisors' salaries.

The proposal was suggested Friday by Supervisor Robert A. Roumiguiere, who said he considered it a "conflict of interest" for supervisors to review their own salaries.

He said supervisors, currently paid about $13,000 per year, could consider a recommendation from the grand jury as an impartial group.

The supervisors' agenda also includes.

TRAVEL — A recommendation that the county's per diem travel allowance to employees be raised from $32 per day to $40 per day.

CLOSED SESSION — A closed session to consider a proposed agreement with the City of San Rafael's redevelopment agency which would lift two county lawsuits against the agency.

STUDY — A proposal from Chairman Arnold M. Baptiste that the county study the environmental impact of the proposed countywide general plan.

The Ups And Downs Of Mushroom Works

SOUTH LEBANON, Ohio (UPI) — Corwin S. Fred has known bad times before in the mushroom canning business.

In the early 1930's he was $15,000 in debt. In the late 1960's imports nearly ruined him. Now the Food and Drug Administration has recalled every can of food he has ever produced.

The FDA ordered the recall earlier this month after a swollen can of mushrooms on a supermarket shelf was found to contain botulism spores.

Fred said the "arbitrary" recall—involving as many as 380,000 cans—will cost him $200,000.

"The real damage of the recall is to the good name of the company," Fred, who started the business in 1929, says. "It's not serious enough to put me out of business, but it could really hurt.

"I may have to lay off some people, but I'll survive. Fortunately I started the fresh mushroom business about four months ago. Thank God I did."

Fred started his business when he was 21. He is now 65.

During the Great Depression, Fred narrowly avoided bankruptcy. His business then prospered until four years ago when imports from Korea and Taiwan began flooding the U.S. market.

"The imports have choked the prices down to the point where I really haven't made much profit in the past four years," he said.

"I have to buy the imports, mostly button mushrooms from Taiwan, just to be competitive. I have to buy them, but I cuss them at the same time."

The FDA recall came as a greater shock, however. He said he first found out about it from a newsman who contacted him.

"We found the source of the problem over the weekend. They (FDA) ordered the recall without even contacting me or knowing what the problem was," he said.

The FDA said it recalled every retrievable product Fred ever made because the company does not code its cans by year and there is no way of telling when they were produced.

Fred will assess the future of his company after the undamaged cans are reprocessed and put back on the grocery shelves.

"It all depends on the American public," he said. "If they shut you down, you're done."

Jumper Survives A Faulty Chute

MOSCOW (UPI) — It was his first jump from an airplane and Ravil Maturin had what all parachutists fear — a faulty chute.

He panicked and grabbed at the emergency chute, the news agency Tass reported Sunday. But in his haste, he pulled out the safety lock, disabling it.

Maturin fell 3,274 feet to the ground and landed in a snow-filled hollow near the airport in the town of Penza, southeast of Moscow.

Tass said he suffered a fractured thigh and a slight brain concussion.

Former Senator Benton Is Dead

WILLIAM BENTON
Dies at 72

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former Sen. William Benton, D-Conn., who in his long career had been a salesman, a copywriter, a publisher and an official in the Truman administration, died here Sunday. He would have been 73 on April 1.

An aide said Benton died at his apartment of cardiac arrest. In recent years Benton served as publisher and chairman of the board of the Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc.

A descendant of a family which traced their ancestry in America back to about 1638, Benton was a native of Minneapolis and was raised by his widowed mother on a Montana homestead.

At age 18 he won a scholarship to Yale University where he helped pay his way by running a dining table, ushering and working summers as a bank clerk.

Following graduation he worked as a salesman—driving a truck and selling cash registers.

Shortly after his 29th birthday, Benton, in association with Chester Bowles, founded the advertising firm of Benton & Bowles which a half a dozen years later was one of the leading such agencies in the country.

Appointed to the Senate in 1949 to replace Sen. Raymond Baldwin, who had resigned, Benton later was elected to serve the remainder of Baldwin's term and became one of the leaders of the Senate attack on Sen. Joseph McCarthy, R-Wis.

In 1951 Benton introduced a resolution in the Senate calling for McCarthy's expulsion, saying McCarthy's charge of Communists in government was a "a pattern of fraud and deceit." McCarthy's refusal to answer a Senate committee's questions a month later led to condemnation by the full Senate in December, 1954.

As assistant secretary of state, Benton oversaw creation of the "Voice of America" broadcasts and supervised the postwar expansion of the U.S. Information Agency abroad.

He also represented the United States in the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO). In 1947 he left the state department where had served as Assistant Secretary of State.

He is survived by his widow Helen, four children and eight grandchildren. Memorial services will be held Wednesday at Trinity Parish Episcopal Church, Southport, Conn.

VD At Record Level Across The Nation

NEW YORK (UPI) — Venereal disease cases in the United States have hit record levels, with the highest rates in Atlanta and Washington, D.C., according to the American Social Health Association.

The national voluntary agency said the incidence of gonorrhea in fiscal 1972 was the highest recorded in 53 years—ever since the U.S. Public Health Service started keeping VD statistics in 1919, and more cases of infectious syphilis were reported in fiscal 1972 than in any year since 1950.

The data appeared in the 20th annual publication on venereal diseases—entitled "Today's VD Control Problem, 1973," released by the health agency.

Among the 60 largest cities, Atlanta had the highest reported gonorrhea incidence rate—2,522 cases per 100,000 population—and Washington D.C. reported the highest rate of infectious syphilis—103 cases per 100,000.

The national reported gonorrhea rate was 350 and the infectious syphilis rate was 12 per 100,000 population.

San Francisco and Oakland were among 60 U.S. cities with populations of 200,000 and more with high rates of venereal disease. San Francisco had 1,772 cases of gonorrhea per each 100,000 in population, and Oakland 520 cases per 100,000. San Francisco had 85 cases of syphilis per 100,000 population, and Oakland nine.

Officials estimated there were at least 2.5 million cases of gonorrhea and 85,000 cases of infectious syphilis in the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1972.

Actual reported cases of gonorrhea totaled 718,401, a 15 per cent increase over the previous year. There were 24,000 cases of infectious syphilis reported, a 3 per cent increase over the 23,336 cases reported in 1971 and the greatest number of cases reported since 1950.

Dr. William L. Fleming, chairman of the 19-man committee that prepared the VD publication, said that because many cases of venereal disease are not reported "the actual ncidence of the disease is not known."

Fleming said the state of California and the city of Norfolk, Va., reported decreases in the gonorrhea rates after initiating vigorous ontrol programs.

Channel Plan Objection Can Be Filed Now

The Army Corps of Engineers asks persons who may object to a request by Shellmaker Inc. to dredge an existing basin and channel along the Petaluma River to submit their objections by April 5 to the corps, 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco.

The proposed dredging would be on the company's property at Black Point, Sonoma County. It would consist of removing 8,500 cubic yards of material to provide an approximate depth of eight feet below the plane of mean lower low water. Material would be deposited shoreward of existing levees.

The decision to issue a permit will be based on an evaluation of the impact of the proposed work on the public interest, the corps said.

Vanderbilts Gather For A Reunion

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — The rich and the super rich—some with aristocratic titles—descended on the "country music capitol of the world" during the weekend for the first Vanderbilt family reunion in more than 100 years.

Descendants of the famous 19th century steamship and railroad magnate Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt were attending the reunion and Vanderbilt University founders' day weekend. They ranged in age from one-year-old Jack Gwynne Emmett Harris, son of Jones and Heidi Vanderbilt Harris of New York to 81-year-old Louise Morris Mills, the eldest member present for the first family get-together since 1863.

About 100 of the clan members attended a Saturday night banquet, while 20 others, mostly teen-agers, attended the Grand Ole Opry.

Geneologist Verley Archer, who has been digging at the roots of the Vanderbilt family tree for nearly 10 years, says some of the relatives might be "considered poor if you want to go by Vanderbilt standards."

The guest list included such diverse descendants of the commodore as the Duke of Marlborough, John George Vanderbilt Henry Spencer-Churchill, and William Vanderbilt Jr., who is employed in international agriculture and recently backpacked through Nepal.

Others on hand were Countess Alic Szechenyi Hadik; Derrick-Allix Pease, the sheriff of greater London; Alice Goodman, the wife of musician Benny Goodman; the Countess Anthony Szapayr; Derick Webb, a Vermont dairy farmer, and Kenneth Shaw Safe Jr., who "didn't even know I was a Vanderbilt" until he received an invitation.

About 70 direct descendants showed up for the affair, and organizers for the gathering said they were pleased with the turnout.

"They've always had a close family pride," Miss Archer said, "But just haven't congregated in one place."

No matter their distance in miles or blood lines, however, the members have continued to support the school with gifts ranging from $50 to $40 million, as was given by the late Harold Sterling Vanderbilt. The money has gone to employ eminent faculty members, such as Dr. Earl Sutherland, the 1971 Nobel Prize winner for medicine.

ALCOHOLISM — William C. Harper, supervising counselor for the National Council on Alcoholism in the Bay Area, will speak at a forum on alcohol abuse at Sinaloa Junior High School, Novato, at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Purim Joy Is Lacking In Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI) — It was purim, one of the most joyous holidays on the Jewish calendar, but the mood at Moscow's central synagogue did not reflect it.

"We are waiting," said one woman at Saturday night's service. "What more can we do? Now that Shultz has been here maybe something will happen. Only time will tell."

Her comments were typical of several reactions by worshippers to last week's visit to Moscow by Secretary of the Treasury George P. Shultz.

Shultz discussed U.S.-Soviet trade with Soviet leaders and the related issue of Soviet Jewish emigration to Israel.

A majority of Congress is on record as opposing most-favored-nation trade status for the Soviet Union unless the Kremlin lifts its so-called education tax on emigrants, which affects Jews seeking to go to Israel.

Shultz told newsmen he was optimistic about the outcome of the dispute. But he gave no indication the Soviets are prepared to lift the tax, ostensibly levied to repay the state for the emigrants' free higher education.

"Look around," the woman told the Western correspondent questioning her. "You do not see many young people and many of the old regulars are absent. You can't blame it all on the weather."

It was cold and snowing heavily. Half a dozen uniformed militia (police) stood outside watching all who entered the white-columned building.

"People are nervous, nervous about the trade business and the situation in general," she said. "We have now reached closer to the top of the hill—and that means a longer way to fall."

A bearded man listening to the conversation joined in.

"Emigration to Israel continues," he said. "But the fact remains that few are intellectuals and skilled workers. This must not be forgotten. This is the main point."

Priest Named To School Board

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Catholic priest has been appointed by Mayor Joseph Alioto to San Francisco's Board of Education.

He is Rev. Thomas A. Burns, a Jesuit and professor of education at the University of San Francisco.

Twenty-five years ago it would have been unthinkable to appoint a cleric to public office," the mayor said Friday.

"But we've come a long way to restoring the clergy to first class citizenship."

Alioto, who is Catholic, said the priest "adheres very, very rigorously" to the constitutional requirement of the separation of church and state.

Lauritz Melchior Dies At Age 82

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — Danish-born Lauritz Melchior, the great Wagnerian tenor who thrilled packed audiences at the Metropolitan Opera House and untold millions in the movies, died Sunday night. He would have been 83 Tuesday.

Melchoir died of a liver tumor, a spokesman for St. John's Hospital said. He had undergone an operation March 10.

Born in Copenhagen, Denmark, on March 20, 1890, Melchior became known throughout Europe for his roles in Wagnerian operas.

He made his debut at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York in 1926 and sang there for a quarter of a century —until he quit in a feud with Rudolph Bing, director of the Met, who scolded him publicly for "going into the movies."

In recent years he spent most of his time in his hilltop home—The Viking overlooking Los Angeles and the San Fernando Valley.

In his trophy room, lined with the heads of African game animals he killed on safari, Melchior would listen to recordings of classical music and drink imported Danish beer from one of his collection of valuable Bavarian steins.

In 1964, Melchior married television producer Mary Markham, his former secretary. He was 74 and she was 40. It was his third marriage. They separated five months later and were divorced in 1965.

After coming to Hollywood in 1944, Melchior made frequent concert tours to the hinterlands to bring classical music to people who did not have a chance to see it in person.

In 1947, he became a citizen of the United States, giving up his title of "Singer of the Royal Court of Denmark."

He starred with actresses Kathryn Grayson, June Allyson and Esther Williams in such movies as "Thrill of a Romance," "Two Sisters from Boston" and "This Time for Keeps."

At the Met, he had been paid

LAURITZ MELCHIOR
Liver tumor is fatal

$1,000 a week—the highest salary ever given a male opera great. His popular tours netted him $7,000 weekly.

At 22, Melchior was admitted to the School of the Royal Opera. At the time y was a baritone. Later in his career, a friend convinced him he was really a tenor "with the lid on" and after much study, Melchior changed to the heroic range that brought him fame.

In 1919, he was invited to appear at Queens Hall in London with Sir Henry Wood conducting. It was there that Hugh Walpole, the British novelist, first heard Melchior sing. From then on, he helped Melchior.

Also in the audience was Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of radio. Marconi thought Melchior had the voice most perfectly suited to radio—and selected him to appear on what was to be the first worldwide broadcast, from Chelmsford, England, July 30, 1920.

His first wife, Inger Nathansen, died in 1925. He married his second wife, actress Maria Hacker, in 1927.

"Our marriage has endured because Kleinchen (little one) gave up her movie career for me," said Melchior shortly before Maria's death in 1963. "Her love was bigger than the desire for fame and fortune."

He is survived by a son, Ib, author, screenwriter and director who lives in Los Angeles, and a daughter, Birte, of Copenhagen.

Marcos Orders Tax Crackdown

MANILA (UPI) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos said today he will order the arrest of tax evaders, including friends and relatives, who fail to declare "hidden wealth" by April 2.

Speaking to public accountants, Marcos reminded all Filipinos of his martial law decree setting April 2 as the deadline for amnesty on previously undeclared income or wealth, whether hidden in the Philippines or abroad.

All those who take advantage of the amnesty will be required to pay only a 10 per cent tax on their declared hidden wealth. The declaration also will remain secret and the taxpayer is guaranteed immunity from future investigation or prosecution.

Hub Candidates' Night Wednesday

A candidates' night for persons running for the San Anselmo School District board will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the multipurpose room at Brookside School.

A previous Independent-Journal story incorrectly said the event would be April 17.

There also will be a slide presentation of the San Anselmo open space bond issue at 7:30 p.m.

Both events are sponsored by the Brookside, Sleepy Hollow and Hidden Valley schools parents' clubs.

Angel Island Work Started

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. has begun a $220,000 project to improve service reliability on Angel Island.

The project is in response to a request by the California Division of Beaches and Parks for PG&E to purchase the state's electric facilities on the island and assume responsibility for service.

The two-phase project will consist of installing two 12,000-volt submarine cables under Raccoon Straits from Tiburon to the island and to repair or replace overhead and underground conductors around the perimeter of the island with new 12,000-volt conductors.

Dollar Devaluation Will Hike Air Fares

LONDON (UPI) — The International Air Transport Association (IATA) said today air fares from some countries on the North and South Atlantic routes will rise to compensate for devaluation of the U.S. dollar and changes in the value of other currencies.

The increases, negotiated at a six-day IATA conference in London that ended Sunday, take effect April 15, subject to approval of the government's concerned.

An IATA statement also said that because airlines and governments could not agree on new North Atlantic promotional fares IATA has decided to extend the 1972-73 basic fares structure on the route for another year and to launch a program to negotiate a revised fares structure for January, 1974.

The fare hikes on the North Atlantic route vary from 6 per cent on the current American, Canadian and Mexican prices to up to 10 per cent on European prices. For the Asia and Pacific area via the North Atlantic route the increases are up to 6 per cent and for Africa up to 11.1 per cent.

For the South Atlantic route, increases vary from 6 per cent on prices in Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Paraguay and Uruguay to up to 10 per cent on European and African prices. In Asia fares will rise up to 11.1 per cent.

Vanderbilt Fabric Collection Termed Sophisticated, Naive

GLORIA VANDERBILT COOPER
Visits in Marin

By KAREN PETERSON

Sophisticated in feeling but yet very naive is how Gloria Vanderbilt described her new collection of collage-inspired fabric coverings yesterday during a personal appearance at W & J Sloane in Northgate.

The colorful and imaginative Gloria Vanderbilt Collection includes fabrics, bedspreads, pillows, curtains, draperies, table coverings and boudoir furniture.

Evolved from her now-famous collage work begun in 1966 and exhibited throughout the country, the fabric is brightly patterned with flowers, splashes of color and a variety of patterns, including patchwork squares of bonneted, long-skirted little girls.

The collection, now on display on the second floor of Sloane's, also includes a tulip design in pinks and oranges used as covering for a chaise, canopy bed with curtains and a floor-length table cover.

A touch of lace and eyelet adorn the bedspreads which are tossed with small pillows decorated with lace and ruffles. Another design used on a chair and bedspread is decorated with flowers and the word Love.

Miss Vanderbilt describes her collection as a feeling that comes together. "It's a collection of how I would like things to be — without violence," explained the soft-spoken Miss Vanderbilt.

Visitors who shook hands and spoke to the gracious and friendly Miss Vanderbilt seemed as enthusiastic about the collection, especially the large overstuffed pillows, as they were about the chance to meet the slim Miss Vanderbilt.

Lining up for autographs, one man remarked that Miss Vanderbilt was as charming and elegant as he had imagined she would be.

The youthful collection is not limited to the bedroom, stressed Miss Vanderbilt, who suggested its use throughout the house.

She also suggested the use of pure color with the fabric, available by the yard, and said simple, direct colors work best with the intricate designs which can be interrelated or used alone.

Miss Vanderbilt, illustrating the variety of uses for her collection, said the May issue of Cosmopolitan will feature her "Flowering Tree —a bright mixture of design — as wall covering and the May issue of House and Garden will also feature the tulip design as a new approach to bathroom decorating.

Hallmark will also offer a collage kit designed by Miss Vanderbilt. The purpose of the kits, she said, is to inspire the use of imagination. Her collection was made with the same idea, she said, calling it a "springboard for people to do something personal" with design.

Hallmark will also feature other articles of her design, including writing paper, greeting cards, jigsaw puzzles and gift wrappings.

Probably best known for her work in collage, which is credited for the revival of patchwork and gingham, Miss Vanderbilt has exhibited around the country, has appeared on nationwide television and has written a book on the subject, the "Gloria Vanderbilt Book of Collage."

The daughter of Reginald Vanderbilt and Gloria Morgan, Miss Vanderbilt was born in New York City. n artist, poet and actress, she had her first one-man show 20 years ago. This year will mark her 14th one-man show with the opening of an exhibit at the Fine Arts Center at Cheekwood, Nashville, Tenn.

Miss Vanderbilt, now named to the Fashion Hall of Fame after years of heading the best-dressed list, published her first book of poetry, "Love Poems" in 1955. In the same year she toured in Ferenc Molnar's "The Swan," playing a fairy-tale princess who gave up love for a throne.

She is now returning to painting in oils and also working on a new technique using crayons.

Miss Vanderbilt will also be at "Sloane's Country Cottage" first floor, W & J Sloane, San Francisco, tonight from 4 to 7 p.m.

A Bleeding Child Can Die Quickly

(Second of a series of three weekly articles on what to do in emergencies with young children. Today: if breathing has stopped.)

According to Bruce Dreier, Marin Red Cross Safety Programs chairman, a child who has stopped breathing can die in four to six minutes. After even two or three minutes of not breathing, he can suffer serious brain damage.

If the child is not breathing, don't wait. Start mouth-to-mouth breathing right away. Dreier observes that many people ask, "How can your old 'used up' air be good for the person who can't breathe? "This," he explains, "is because you do not use up all the oxygen in the air you breathe. That air can keep someone else alive."

Lie the child on his back and turn his head to the side. Use two fingers to clean out his mouth. Take out anything which can keep the air from going in.

Then put one hand on his forehead, and the other hand under his neck. To make it easier for the air to get into his lungs and to make sure his tongue does not block the air-passage, gently tilt the child's head back by pulling up on his neck and pushing on the forehead. Sometimes this alone will start breathing. If it doesn't, pinch his nose shut. Take a deep breath, open your mouth wide, and put it over his mouth to make a tight seal.

BLOW AS if blowing up a balloon, and the child's chest should rise. Turn your head and listen for air rushing out of his lungs. If no air comes out, bend the child over your arm and strike sharply between the shoulder blades. Then start over — clean the mouth, position the head, and try again. Never give up until a doctor tells you to stop.

The breathing rate should be repeated about 20 times a minute for a small child. Try it — blow on the back of your hand, turn your head to listen, breathe, and repeat the process.

Because a baby's face is small, you may not be able to make a seal over his mouth alone. Put your mouth over the baby's mouth and nose. Blow gently, using small puffs of air. Blow more often — once every three seconds. To time the three seconds in an emergency, say to yourself — "Blow, listen, breathe". After breathing has resumed, treat the child for shock. Have him lie down and elevate his feet. Maintain his body temperature by covering him with a blanket, coat or sweater — then call the doctor.

PREVENTION MEASURES will often remove the potential hazard. Never leave a child alone in or around the water. Do not trust inner tubes, water wings, or other devices to keep your child above the water.

To prevent accidental suffocation, tear up and throw away all plastic bags, especially those which cover clothes from the cleaners. Vacant lots seem to be a gathering place for disposing of old refrigerators and freezers which make excellent places to hide during games. If you can't get rid of these appliances, at least completely remove the door.

Since the chewing habit is not firmly establihsed until the age of four, children under this age should not be given nuts, raw fruit, raw vegetables or hard candies. These require grinding action of the molars. Never stimulate a child to laugh or cry when he has food in his mouth. Fatal choking might result.

"I hope this information will be of help in case of an emergency", Dreier said, "but the best way the mother of a preschool child can prepare herself to cope with emergencies is to enroll in a Marin Red Cross First Air Course."

ON THE AGENDA

A tribute will be given to the women who have volunteered service to breast cancer patients in Marin through the group.

Policies Are Now More Complete

Health insurance policies aren't what they used to be, reports the Health Insurance Institute. They are a great deal more comprehensive.

For example, some of the coverages now being provided in today's group policies include benefits for abortions, births out of wedlock, vasectomies and drug addiction.

Many policies, too, protect persons such as those with heart disease, diabetes, or even those who have had cancer as eligible policyholders.

Currently there are more than 100 insurance companies offering policies covering persons with a variety of serious ailments.

Few Washers

NEW YORK (UPI) — The bridal market isn't big where washers and dryers are concerned. That market only accounts for 8.7 per cent of the annual sales of washers and 4.1 per cent of the annual sales of clothes dryers, reports "Modern Bride" market analysts.

Don't Put Sweaters Away Before Cleaning

Don't even think of putting away wool sweaters for the season until you are sure they are clean. Nylons, acrylics and most other man-made fibers as well as machine washable woolens can be laundered automatically. Wools, cashmeres and wool or cashmere blends (excluding mohair, which must be dry cleaned) should be washed by hand.

Before laundering, draw an outline of the sweater on paper other than newsprint. Soak the sweater for a few minutes in lukewarm water containing soap or detergent. If the sweater is a dark color or is multicolored, use cold water. Then squeeze the suds gently through it, supporting it in the hands so it does not stretch, and rinse thoroughly several times by squeezing rather than twisting. A few drops of fabric softener in the final rinse will reduce pilling. Squeeze out excess moisture, and roll the sweater in a towel.

Block it on the paper pattern on a dry, clean towel, easing in elasticized edged and smoothing out any trim. Let the sweater dry on a flat surface away from direct heat or sunlight.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Changes Top Front And Lower Rear Would Help Her Figure

DEAR HELEN:

I am afflicted with fanny-droop. Like so many people who go to hips, I'm underendowed on top. In fact, I'm kind of a teardrop on short stilts. Graded on a curve, I'd definitely be in the bottom half. . . and I'm trying for humor, but who's laughing?

My question: can I get a breast augmentation and a bottom reduction at the same time, so I won't have to be in the hospital twice? I've saved up only $2,000, so I need a two-for-one price. — BODY SHOPPING

P.S. I also have "riding pants" thighs. Can they be cut down?

DEAR BODY SHOPPING:

If only our bodies were clay so that — when dieting, exercise, girdles and pads aren't enough — we could be molded rather than cut into shape!)

Fannies may be lifted and recontoured but, according to a well-known plastic surgeon (who requested, "No name, please; it smacks of advertising"), the breast augmentation should wait until later — unless you want it sooner. Practically speaking, how would you rest or sleep? How could a doctor operate on front and back at the same time?

A buttocks operation would probably take most of your $2,000, if you include hospital bills. Breast implants are less expensive; often under $1,500 total, depending on where you live. (A few Los Angeles surgeons do this augmentation in their offices, thus saving the patient hospital charges.

Yes, you can also have your thighs reduced but the scars will show in a swim suit or brief pants. You'll look great in stretch pants, however.

Almost any excess flab, whether it be on "prune bellies" or upper arms, faces or hips, can be surgically removed these days. All it takes is a little bit of courage and quite a lot of money.

For further information — including the names of good plastic surgeons in your area — write to the National American Society of Plastic and Reconstruction Surgeons, Inc., 29 East Madison Street, Suite 807, Chicago, Illinois, 60602. — H.

P.S. While cosmetic surgery is usually not covered by medical insurance (it's termed unnecessary for health reasons), the reduction of over-large or pendulous breasts is a different matter. Often required to relieve back and shoulder aches or remove unhealthy tissue, it can be a legitimate insurable expense, though the company might not pay all of the estimated $1,200 surgeon's fee. — HELEN

DEAR HELEN:

It isn't Thanksgiving, Christmas or even Valentine's Day, but I'd still like to tell you about the three wonderful gifts we have — our three teenagers.

One graduated from high school last year; one will graduate this year and one next year. As their childhood closes, we offer up thanks.

We have heard something about a generation gap, but we don't know what it is; we have heard of juvenile delinquents but only in newspapers; we have heard of "hateful disrespect to parents" but only when others complain of it.

We ask for no better gifts. These packages were opened beginning 18 years ago and have increased in value ever since. — ANONYMOUS PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS:

What a lovely Valentine's Day letter — one month late. Thanks for saying what I think the majority of parents still feel — in spite of all that generation gap jazz. — H.

They Make Parties A Business

TAMPA, Fla. — Two imaginative women have started a unqiue business: Creative Celebrations.

Anne Reznik and Lorayne Pegler plan parties, weddings, bar mitzvahs, dances, do personalized shopping for the ill and elderly. Started only a few months ago, word-of-mouth advertising has boomed their business so much that they are almost solidly booked through next November.

Anne and Lorayne aren't caterers, but they arrange for food and drink. But they never order food until they've tasted samples of what the cook can do. And they won't book a band until they've heard it.

The girls were asked if the need for such a service is a sad commentary on modern hosts and hostesses.

"Oh, no, people feel they want to enjoy their own parties," they answer. "We do their thing for them, not our thing." (Los Angeles Times Syndicate)

MONEY MATTERS

Food Clubs May Cut On Costs

By JOSEPHINE RIPLEY
The Christian Science Monitor News Service

What can American families do to counter rising food prices? Many already have pared the budget down to a well-gnawed bone.

But it may be possible to pare it even further by arranging to buy your food, or much of it, at wholesale.

An increasing number of families are joining or organizing food-buying clubs or food cooperatives. These groups usually are made up of a number of families closely associated in a neighborhood. Substantial savings can be made over a period of time by group buying.

Good organization is essential to success. Members must be serious about the project and willing to work. For instance, they must select a buyer — someone who knows prices, compares prices, and can spot a bargain.

Choosing a treasurer also is important since the position involves collecting money from club members, keeping books, and getting "cash on the line.".

ONCE FOOD is purchased, arrangements must be made for its delivery to a central distribution center. The wholesaler may deliver it, or it may be necessary to transport it in a member's car or truck. The distribution center may be a church basement, a warehouse, a large garage, or other suitable quarters. This space is usually donated.

Volunteers must be recruited for distributing orders. This may sound like a simple operation, and in one sense it is. But members will get out of a food-buying club only as much as they put into it in effort, enthusiasm, and consistent support.

The Cooperative League of the USA, long experienced in matters of cooperative buying, has found that a buying club with less than 30 families "usually lasts only two or three years."

But, if three or four clubs join together and pool their orders, they can increase their buying power by 100 families or more.

"To develop a continuing co-op means growing from this to 500 families or so before you start paying rent or carrying an inventory or paying a manager or bookkeeper," says the league in a booklet on "Buying Clubs."

ART DANFORTH, secretary-treasurer of the league, points to the success of a group in Sacramento, where a number of clubs, comprising some 1,500 families, joined together in a federation.

Their food orders are now compiled by means of a data processing system and sent to the wholesaler who delivers the orders to 15 different "drop centers." Club volunteers take over from there and complete the distribution.

In Chicago, food-buying groups have joined together to form the Hyde Park Cooperative. The cooperative now has a supermarket of its own, which does $120,000 in business weekly.

Not all buying groups are in a position to operate on such a big scale. But they serve their members well and are an effective means of reducing the family food bill. The majority of clubs restrict their buying to nonperishables such as canned foods, paper products, soap powders, as well as fruit and vegetables. Buying from the wholesaler enables the group to get products at a lower price than that in the supermarket and also to buy in larger quantities — by the case, for instance.

THE ONLY groups to buy meats are those that have accumulated enough money to purchase a refrigerator or freezer. Some clubs build up a fund for purchases of this kind by selling provisions at a little above the wholesale price and a little below the supermarket price.

This method of providing for contingencies is recommended by the league. The club, of course, makes its own decision in the distribution of funds, if any, when it organizes.

Under the league proposal, each member would be credited with the difference between the actual cost of his purchase and the amount charged by the club. On the vote of members, this money could be used for club expenses or for purchasing equipment, such as a freezer or scale, to be used for the benefit of all.

"If the club sells at cost or refunds all savings in cash, then within a short while this club probably will have to close," the league has found.

Two inexpensive booklets set forth the ABC's of group organization for food buying. One is the 61-page, illustrated booklet entitled "Moving Ahead With Group Action" (90 cents, including postage), published by the Cooperative League of the U.S.A. It may be ordered from the league at 1828 L Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

The other, a smaller publication of 36 pages, is explicit and down to earth. Entitled, "Food Co-operatives," it is published by Food Conspiracies, 165 W. Harvey Street, Philadelphia, Pa., 19144. Price $1.

Exercise Class

A class to help women become aware of their bodies through breathing and physical exercises will begin Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Unitarian Fellowship in Terra Linda. It will continue weekly for six sessions, led by Shirley Le Grant and Sheila Henry. The leaders say that the class is designed to help release tensions and blocked feelings.

Hints Given On How Best To Put On A Wig

If you are uncomfortable in a wig or fight wispy strands of hair that insist on escaping, it is probably because you have not put the wig on properly.

If your hair is long, braid it evenly across the top of the head, making sure there are no prominent bumps that would give the wig an undesired lift. Position the wig on top of your head as if you were casually resting a cap there. With one hand grab the front of the wig and hold securely to your forehead while with the other hand grab the wig at the nape, pulling it down firmly. Now fit it around the ears comfortable.

With two long pins securing the wig, you can brush hard, separate, part, fluff and puff in any way you wish. The wig is on to stay.

Yes!

Do it! Ask her the question, and when she says what she will say, show her you knew she would—by taking from your pocket one of these magnificent solitaire diamonds. Or one of many other styles, shapes, sizes and mountings we can show you, from $100 to $5000 or more.

Booklets Give Parents Tips On Their Children

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

A 57-page booklet from the National Institutes of Health will bring you up-to-date information on children's growth.

Free for the asking, it contains useful background on fetal growth, low birth weight babies; childhood growth including sections on nutrition, hormones, illness, and emotion, and adolescent growth — subdivided into obesity and early and late puberty.

National Institues of Health, Bethesda, Md.

A free booklet tells school boards, parents, teachers and students about arts for every child, a model program worked out with the University City, Mo., school system and with adjustments meant to be copied.

It tells how a school system can start an arts for all program, giving flexible plans. Included are words about instructional units developed in connection with the program.

"The Theatre Game File" and "Editing: A Way of Life" are two such units. The former is a self-contained, informal dramatics curriculum that develops theatrica concepts and skills in a flexible way.

Each of the 210 card games contained in the package presents an improvisational activity that encourages students to focus on one of eight skill areas; attention, observation, physical expression, vocal expression, imagination, emotional awareness, interpersonal interaction and narrative skills.

In "Arts for Every Child," the free booklet, it is noted that the editing unit teaches children that "editing is decision-making and that decisions are based upon valid aesthetic criteria."

Single copies of the free report may be obtained by writing to the JDR 3rd Fund Inc., 50 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, N.Y., 10020.

Marian Boyer To Marry Gilbert Wallace In May

Marian L. Boyer and Gilbert Wallace of San Fracisco are making wedding plans for a May 26 ceremony at the Chapel of the Presidio in San Francisco.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. John Kloster of Minneapolis, Minn. She is a graduate of North High School in Minneapolis and is employed at the Presidio in San Francisco.

The future bridegroom was graduated from high school and college in Honolulu, Hawaii, and he also is employed at the Presidio.

To Avoid Odors

South Clever Enough To Avoid Trap To Score Five Diamonds

"I can play these hands in my sleep," South announced smugly. "A little stripping, a little finesse and there you are." Annoyingly enough, he was quite right. Many players would have lost two club tricks, but South was clever enough to avoid this trap. What a pity that modesty didn't go with his cleverness!

HEART ACTION

West opened the king of hearts and continued with the queen. South ruffed the second heart, drew two rounds of trumps and then stripped the hand in preparation for a club play. That is, he took the ace of spades, led a spade to dummy's king and ruffed dummy's remaining spade. This stripped out the spades both from the dummy and from South's own hand.

Now declarer led the deuce of clubs from his hand. West played low, quite properly, and South deftly finessed with dummy's seven of clubs.

SINGLETON WINS

East won with the singleton ten of clubs, but now East had to commit suicide. Regardless of whether East returned a heart or a spade, South could discard a club while dummy ruffed. The contract was therefore safe.

South didn't know that East held a singleton club. He was safe no matter how many clubs East held. If East could return a club from any two-card or three-card holding, the ace and king would surely clear the suit.

DIFFERENT PLAY

Delicate play would be needed only if East happened to hold Q-J-10 of clubs. If he did, and returned an honor, dummy wuld win the ace, and West would discard. Then South would be able to finesse with the K-9. If East returned a low club, South would win with the eight or nine of clubs.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:
♠ - Q J 7 3 2
♥ - J 10 8 7 3
♦ - 8 3
♣ - 10.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Big four hearts unless you are vulnerable against nonvulnerable opponents.

Your partner should realize that you have great distributional strength but not great high-card strength. The information may enable him to sacrifice against a game or slam in diamonds.

Wagner Backed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Republican Gov. Nelson Rockefeller endorsed Robert Wagner, a Democrat, for New York mayor Sunday, saying the former mayor was the "best qualified" to lead a Republican-Liberal coalition.

WEE PALS

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

MONDAY, MARCH 19

Figures of speech! Did today's birthday notables really say that? Answer "Yes" or "No."

1. EARL WARREN, 82 today, will be remembered for a decision he wrote nearly 20 years ago as Chief Justice of the United States. Speaking for the majority, he wrote: "Does segregation of children in public schools solely on the basis of race. . .deprive the children of the minority group of equal education? We believe that it does. . ." Yes? No?

JAMES A. VAN FLEET made headlines 20 years ago as commander of the United Nations forces in Korea. Born 81 years ago, he graduated from West Point in 1915, rising from lieutenant in World War I to general in World War II. When offered the Croix de Guerre by France, he said: "I cannot accept. The United States Constitution forbids my taking foreign titles without the consent of Congress." Yes? No?

3. IRVING WALLACE, American author, is 57 today. Asked how he goes about writing such books as that on the Nobel Committee ("The Prize") and a Negro President ("The Man"), he replied: "I think a novel should be about something besides yourself. I like a big theme. I like to write about something I don't know about. I knew nothing about religion when I started 'The Word.'" Yes? No?

4. DAVID LIVINGSTONE (1813-1873), African explorer and missionary, became the object of an intensive search by New York "Herald" reporter Henry M. Stanley more than 100 years ago. When Stanley found Livingstone, he asked a famous question ("Doctor Livingstone, I presume"). To this the missionary replied: "Yes, and I feel thankful I am here to welcome you." Yes? No?

ANSWERS: 1 - Yes; 2 - No; 3 - Yes; 4 - Yes.

WELCOME HOME BILL BUTLER

In the huge crowd that turned out yesterday at Travis Air Force Base to welcome returning POW's was a contingent from Walnut Grove, the Sacramento County home of Julie Butler's family. The well-wishers were on hand to welcome her husband, Capt. William W. Butler of San Rafael, returning after more than five years in prison. (See story and another photo, page 1.)

SMILES — The radiant faces of Capt. William W. Butler and his wife Julie reflect the joy of their reunion as they greet well-wishers at Travis Air Force Base, where he landed yesterday. In Captain Butler's hand is a bracelet, given him by a supporter who had worn it while he was a prisoner of war.

Driver, 17, Arrested As Drunk

A 17-year-old San Rafael youth, arrested after a three-car crash yesterday on Highway 101, was cited to Marin juvenile authorities for drunken driving.

The unidentified youth was treated at Marin General Hospital for face cuts and released to his mother.

According to the California Highway Patrol, the youth was driving south on Highway 101 at 1:30 a.m. yesterday when he passed another auto and cut in front of it, sideswiping it. The other car was driven by Lieselotte G. Moran, 38, of 825 Palmira Way, San Rafael.

The youth's car then struck the rear of a third vehicle driven by James J. Lucas, 31, of 24 Matilda Avenue, Mill Valley, forcing it into the center divider, according to the patrol.

Neither of the other two drivers was hurt, officers said.

The youth's name was withheld on standing order of Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court.

Weinberger Defends Education Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration said today its revenue sharing plan for education would do more at less cost for grade schools and high schools and would take the federal government out of the business of running schools.

HEW Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger told the House Education and Labor Committee that President Nixon's proposed Better Schools Act would "work better than the existing categorical, bureaucratic mess which has grown from compassion which simply means well."

The proposed act would spread an estimated $2.6 billion among the states to be passed down to local school districts and would replace the present programs that are now spending $3 billion a year through a series of about 30 categorical programs.

Weinberger, head of the Department of Health Education and Welfare, acknowledged that present programs "have had a profound impact on America's education system." But, he said, "there is a serious question as to how many more of them can be added to the existing structure without swamping it completely."

"It is time we terminated those programs which either haven't worked or have already served their purpose " he said.

"It is time that the federal government ceased acting like a national school board, telling states and communities in great detail what they should spend and how."

Ike's Grandson Eyes Journalism

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lt. (j.g.) David Eisenhower, who will be released from the Navy March 31, may get himself a job in journalism—perhaps as an investigative reporter.

Eisenhower, 24, said Saturday night at a White House birthday party for First Lady Pat Nixon that he had decided against entering law school.

"I want to do something in public affairs," said President Nixon's son-in-law. I thought I'd become an investigative reporter—but that might be dangerous. I have several possibilities."

Eisenhower and his wife, Julie, will move soon into a $125,000 home in nearby Bethesda, Md.

Meeting Cancelled

Tonight's adjourned meeting of the Belvedere City Council has been cancelled, according to City Mgr. William L. Cavalli. He said the items to be discussed are not as urgent as had been thought and will be handled at the Council's April meeting.

MUSIC REVIEW

First-Rate Performances By Pianist Baller, Singer Zitelli

By MARTIN FRICK

Pianist Adolph Baller and soprano Edith Zitelli presented a recital at Dominican College last night as part of the Chamber Music Series.

The major work of the evening was Robert Schumann's "Frauenliebe und Leben," a moving cycle of eight songs which explore the range of emotions a woman might experience as she prepares to be married.

Miss Zitelli carefully placed each note in each song while not neglecting the drama inherent in the text which she articulated with a perfect covered German sound. Dr. Baller closed the cycle by replaying the first song with piano alone and he played it with all the brooding passion of the 19th-Century Romantic.

Unfortunately, the three Mozart songs which opened the program were also given a 19th Century interpretation, especially the first two, "Das Traumbild" and "Als Luise die Briefe verbranntse." While Mozart did permit a rare brooding quality in these, it was not quite to the extent of last night's interpretation.

Following intermission, Miss Ziellit sang three songs by Kirke Mechem, professor of theory at San Francisco State. The most impressive was the second, "Parting, Without a Sequel," which begins as a Baroque recitative and goes on to dramatize a rejected lady writing a scathing letter to her lover. Miss Zitelli punctuated the venom without ever sacrificing her splendid tone quality.

The Palo Alto soprano's early violin training is undoubtedly partly responsible for her precise intonation. Indeed, a few slight lapses of pitch in the Debussy air which followed, embarrassed her to the point of explaining to the small audience in Caleruega Hall that she was under strong medication for hay fever.

Still, she came back to sing three songs of Manuel de Falla with perfect intonation. And, in the two Schubert encores both performers underscored their position as first-rate Lieder artists.

Two Prisoners Along For Ride

NEW YORK (UPI) — CIA agents John Downey and Richard Fecteau were apparently just along for the ride and a thrill when their plane was shot down over China, Newsweek magazine says in its current issue.

"They had apparently gone along for the adventure, serving as 'cargo kickers' who shoved parachute bundles out of the plane," the magazine said.

A retired intelligence officer was quoted as saying the pair "were not supposed to make these flights," which were designed to supply anti-Communist forces inside China in 1952.

Fecteau was released last year and Downey was released by the Chinese last week after 21 years in prison.

Mailliard Is Named To Seabed Committee

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, has been appointed as a delegate to the United Nations Seabed Committee.

The committee is preparing a conference seeking international agreements on national jurisdiction, fisheries, exploitation of minerals and scientific research. Mailliard, saying the day will come soon when oil drilling will be feasible at depths of thousands of feet, warned that unless such agreements can be set, "the world may be plagued with disasters brought on by the uncontrolled exploitation of the ocean's resources."

Mailliard, who was appointed by Secretary of State William Rogers, served as a delegate to the U.N. in 1963.

The congressman also will serve on the United Nations and International Law Committee of the Members of Congress for Peace Through Law. Mailliard is vice chairman and Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., is the chairman of the committee.

Larkspur School Head Receives National Award

Milton S. Cohen, superintendent of the Larkspur School District, received a national Professional Development Award yesterday at the American Association of School Administrators' convention in San Francisco.

Cohen was one of seven educators nationwide to get the award, which recognizes "continued dedication to professional growth and dedicated leadership in in-service seminars."

The award, given by the National Academy for School Executives, was presented to him by Governor Reuben Askew of Florida before 7,000 delegates at the meeting.

NEIGHBOR — San Anselmo's "corporation yard" on San Francisco Boulevard will be a neighbor of the proposed Max D. Schenk townhouse development if the controversial project is approved by county supervisors tomorrow. City officials and nearby residents plan to protest the townhouse project, which some say would blight the area.

San Anselmans Seek To Stop Townhouses

Bitter San Anselmo residents, supported by city officials, will appeal tomorrow to county supervisors to kill a proposed townhouse development which they view as a threat to their neighborhood.

The development, proposed by Max D. Schenk, envisions 44 townhouse dwellings on three acres of a picturesque 15-acre site at the end of Sacramento Avenue, near San Anselmo.

A master plan and related zoning won endorsement last month from the county planning commission, following a series of stormy sessions.

While the arguments against the development center on the adequacy of county police and fire protection to the area, the underlying issue is whether the county should surrender to cities its planning authority for areas adjacent to the cities.

San Anselmo unsuccessfully urged the planning commission to reject the project until the owner, Schenk, agreed to annex to the city in order to receive "city services" such as fire protection.

Failing that, San Anselmo officials petitioned the board of supervisors last week to impose a building moratorium on unincorporated lands around the city.

Supervisors rejected the request on the advice of the county counsel's office, which said the county would be hard-pressed to make the required finding of an emergency.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney also noted that annexation to the city could not be required by the county under existing state law. (An amendment to the law, allowing such a requirement, is expected to be introduced this year in Sacramento.)

San Rafael attorney Albert Bianchi, representing Schenk, has charged the city's only interest in the land is to keep it as open space as a privately owned extension of the city's Sorich Ranch Park.

CORONARY CARE

Special Unit At Marin General

By PATRICIA PERRY
(First of two articles)

Marin General Hospital opened its self-contained coronary care unit in December. With 18 beds, it's one of the largest heart units in the country, even larger than in universities that do cardiovascular surgery.

Unfortunately, since it opened it's been 90 per cent full.

Unfortunate, that is, for the men and women who have suffered heart attacks and other heart ailments and need the care.

Fortunately, on the other hand, it's availabe here in Marin to give the most up-to-date treatment for the nation's number one killer.

For it's an inescapable fact that the very kind of man who is happy to make Marin County his home is apt to be the kind of person most likely to suffer a heart attack. He works hard, he plays hard, he eats well — too well — and he's subject to considerable stress.

Or, as Dr. John J. Bagshaw, director of Marin General's coronary care unit, puts in succinctly: "Marin is blessed with too much stress and too much good living."

The unit is on the hospital's fourth floor, in an area previously housing pediatric and intensive care beds.

Hospital administrator Ray K. Bolinger said the construction cost about $200,000 and the equipment, most of which was donated, about $50,000.

At first sight, to the visitor it looks more like a space center than a hospital. A central console — all flashing lights and bleeps and meters — dominates the vestibule. Turquoise carpets and sound-proofed walls muffle noise.

The unit is divided into two sections. The acute section has four beds. It's here that a patient is brought as soon as he's suffered a heart attack. A second smaller console is its mastermind, and each of the four patients in acute care is "plugged" into the monitoring equipment.

A television screen beside each bed shows the same rhythm of heart beats to the patient that is being projected on the console. The walls of the four acute bedrooms are all glass, so that nurses can observe the patient all the time.

Once a patient has survived the first few critical days, he is transferred to the intermediate section — which has 12 beds. Here he is likely to go on telementry . . . a battery operated device that's hooked onto a patient's gown, and relays impulses from his heart to the receiver, while he walks around.

"It is eary for a patient to be intimidated by the enormous amount of hardware," said Dr. Bagshaw, "and we try to increase the human approach to the patient . . . we certainly don't want to add to his stress when he is admitted."

The "hardware" may be awesome, but it's an integral part of modern coronary care. Nurses who man the console have undergone intensive training, explained Sarajane Creech, head nurse of the unit.

"The whole concept is prevention," said Mrs. Creech, "there is an electrical impulse going through the heart picking things up early."

The monitoring devices have an alarm system, so that if a hearts action exceeds preset limits, a bell will ring. Authentication print-outs automatically show the physician the patterns of troubled heart beats.

But despite the vast array of machines such as a portable defibrillator which shocks the very rapid irregular contractions of heart muscles back into normality, Dr. Bagshaw said, "We believe there is nothing more important than the nurse at the bedisde."

All the nurses in the heart unt have had specialized training, and still go through classes and conferences. A nurse who admits a patient will care for him while he's in the acute unit, then move over to the intermediate section with him.

(It is more accurate to refer to a heart patient as "he" since before the age of 50, about 80 per cent of heart attacks occur in men. Female hormones appear to protect women from the disease until they reach menopause - after that age they catch up.)

Man Held In Robbery Probe

A San Rafael man was robbed at knifepoint Saturday and a woman and her male companion were arrested on suspicion of robbery.

Patsy Ruth Acuna, 30, and David Michael Korb, 23, both of 718 B Street, San Rafael, were held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bail each to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Police said that at about 1:10 a.m., the woman lured James Gary Johnson of Capital Installations on Smith Ranch Road to the stairwell of Fleur de France restaurant at 718 B Street. There she and Korb each held him at knifepoint and took between $65 and $75 from him, according to police.

Johnson went to police and from his description, they arrested the pair at their apartment. He later identified them, police reported.

Pentagon Thefts Of Tableware Causes Shortage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Employes in the Pentagon have stolen 20,000 cafeteria place settings in just nine months— almost one knife, fork and spoon for each person in the building, Pentagon officials said today.

The Pentagon, in its own language, distributed a circular last week describing the problem:

"The continual removal of tableware, glassware and plastic trays from the Pentagon cafeterias and the failure to return same has created inventory shortages which materially affect the concessionaire's ability to operate during the service periods," the circular said.

A spokesman said from March through November last year the 26,000 Pentagon workers lifted 4,800 trays, 8,400 glasses, 11,700 plates and a whopping 61,000 knives, forks and spoons. Many of them were found going out with the trash after staffers apparently finished using the utensils while eating at their desks.

Since the cafeterias are run by a private firm, the $30,000 loss is made up by increased prices and not by tax money.

Hitchhiker Reports Stabbing

A 21-year-old hitchhiker from Santa Rosa was stabbed in the lower right abdomen in Novato last night by another rider in a car which had picked him up in Berkeley.

Rick Lee Frost told Novato police he was stabbed while getting out of the car at De Long and Reichert avenues, a block from the police station, at 7:14 p.m.

Frost said he had been given a ride by three unidentified men, about 20 to 24, whom he described as grubby and dirty.

When their older model car turned off Highway 101 at De Long Avenue, Frost said he started to get out. Then, one of the men in the rear of the car said "don't get out" and he was stabbed as he left, he reported.

Bridge Approach On Agenda

The impasse over improving the San Francisco approach to the Golden Gate Bridge will be considered by bridge district directors on Thursday.

The public information-governmental affairs committee will meet at 9:30 a.m. in toll plaza offices.

The impasse was posed last week when San Francisco supervisors voted unanimously to demand that the state trim two lanes from its proposed eight-lane roadway. State highway officials indicated they would not build such a substandard roadway, which would cut the present traffic capacity by 25 per cent.

It's On With The Show With Business License

There was a film crew making a Ford television commercial on Corte Oriental in Greenbrae on Friday using the dramatic Tamalpais Retirement Residence as a backdrop.

There was, also, Larkspur's assistant city manager, Harlan Barry, figuring that the City of Larkspur ought to be recompensed for that salubrious free location.

So, at 2 o'clock, there was also the Larkspur police. Telling the crew from Snazelle Films Inc., of San Francisco, that they must halt filming until the necessary business license and permits were obtained.

Production manager Janet Mercer of 348 Sausalito Boulevard, Sausalito, apologized, saying that the company was unaware a license was needed. After she had bought a license, filming resumed.

"Actually we don't really have one," confessed Barry today, "so we charged $75 for a regular business license."

Santa Rosa Man Arrested On Narcotics Count

A Santa Rosa man was arrested in Petaluma Saturday on suspicion of possession of marijuana for sale, possession of dangerous drugs and narcotics paraphernalia.

William Robert Orr Jr., 24, was booked into Sonoma County Jail and scheduled for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Poline said his car was stopped in the 300 block of Coronado Drive Saturday at 5 p.m. Officers said a plastic bag believed to contain marijuana fell out of the car and a subsequent search found ten lids of marijuana, two pipes and several vials of pills.

Guitar Stolen From School

A guitar appliqued with flowers and doves and worth $190 was stolen from the music storage room at Redwood High School Wednesday, reported Larskpur police.

Colleen Ruth McKimmie of 49 Via La Cumbre, Greenbrae, told police she put the guitar in the storage room after her music lesson at 11:45 a.m. Wednesday, and the next morning it was missing.

Plea Made To Car Burglary

Edward John Bonadeo, 25, of San Ansemo, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge he burglarized a car in a San Rafael parking lot Wednesday.

The case was continued to March 28 to set a preliminary hearing date.

Bonadeo was arrested at Mission and Pacheco avenues in San Rafael about two-and-one-half hours after someone broke into the car of Ursula F. Valan of San Anselmo in the lot at Third and Cijos Street and stole $201.

A witness jotted down the license number of the thief's car and police matched it to Bonadeo's car.

Concert Group Sets Member Drive Wednesday

The Marin Concert Association has announced it will open its third annual membership campaign with a dinner at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Alvarado Inn in Ignacio.

The drive, will end March 31.

Campaign headquarters will be at Whitney's Bank Instruments, 408 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Subscribers will be eligible to attend the last two concerts of the 1972-73 season, "Operetta Tonight" on March 28 and violinist Tieko Marhash on April 9.

Memberships may be purchased by mail by writing the Marin Concert Association, Box 398, Fairfax 94930.

Hearing Is Set On General Plan

The Belvedere Planning Commission — meeting at 8 p.m. today at city hall — will hold a public hearing on a proposed housing element for the city's general plan.

Commissioners also will discuss a draft of an open space element and consider nine use permit requests — three continued and six new ones — for additions and improvements to various Belvedere residences.

The permits are required by the city's temporary moratorium on building.

Hurt In Accident

Kegham, Shahenian, 54, of 1111 Fourth Street, San Rafael was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a scalp laceration, suffered, according to hospital spokesmen, in an accident. Details were not available.

ORDINANCE NO. 1953

AN ORDINANCE OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE MARIN COUNTY FLOOD CONTROL AND WATER CONSERVATION DISTRICT CALLING A SPECIAL ELECTION WITHIN FLOOD CONTROL ZONE NO. 1 OF SAID DISTRICT FOR THE PURPOSE OF SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF SAID FLOOD CONTROL ZONE NO. 1 THE QUESTION OF WHETHER OR NOT A BONDED INDEBTEDNESS SHOULD BE INCURRED IN SAID ZONE FOR THE PURPOSE OF ACQUIRING, CONSTRUCTING AND COMPLETING THE PROPOSED WORK AND IMPROVEMENTS HEREIN DESCRIBED; STATING THE ESTIMATED COST OF SAID WORK AND IMPROVEMENTS; DECLARING THE AMOUNT OF THE BONDS PROPOSED TO BE ISSUED THEREFOR AND THE MAXIMUM RATE OF INTEREST TO BE PAID THEREON; MAKING PROVISION FOR THE LEVY AND COLLECTION OF ASSESSMENTS ON ALL PROPERTY IN SAID ZONE; FIXING THE TIME OF SAID ELECTION AND THE MANNER OF HOLDING THE SAME AND PRESCRIBING THE FORM AND CONTENTS OF THE BALLOT TO BE USED THEREAT AND PROVIDING FOR NOTICE THEREOF; FIXING THAT PART OF SUCH BONDED INDEBTEDNESS WHICH SHALL BE PAID EACH AND EVERY YEAR; ESTABLISHING SPECIAL BOND ELECTION PRECINCTS FOR THE CONDUCT OF SUCH ELECTION, AND DESIGNATING THE POLLING PLACES AND APPOINTING ELECTION OFFICERS FOR EACH OF SUCH BOND ELECTION PRECINCTS.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE MARIN COUNTY FLOOD CONTROL AND WATER CONSERVATION DISTRICT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DO ORDAIN as follows:

SECTION 1. The Board of Supervisors of the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District does hereby find that it is necessary that the funds of said district shall be expended for the purposes hereinafter set forth within and for the benefit of Flood Control Zone No. 1 of the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District. Said Board does further find that there are not sufficient funds in the Treasury of said district available for expenditure within said Flood Control Zone No. 1 for such purposes be raised by the issuance and sale of bonds of said district within Flood Control Zone No. 1 thereof and to that end that a special election be held within said Flood Control Zone No. 1 in accordance with law for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of said Flood Control Zone No. 1 the question of incurring a bonded debt in said Flood Control Zone No. 1 for the purposes hereinafter set forth.

SECTION 2. A special bond election shall be and the same is hereby called to be held and will be held throughout Flood Control Zone No. 1 of the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District on Tuesday, the 17th day of April, 1973, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of said Flood Control Zone No. 1 the question of incurring a bonded indebtedness of said district within said Flood Control Zone No. 1 for the purpose and in the amount set forth in the following measure, to-wit:

FLOOD CONTROL ZONE NO. 1 BOND MEASURE
MEASURE: (Flood Control Bonds) Shall Flood Control Zone No. 1 of Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District incur a bonded indebtedness in the principal amount of $4,500,000.00 for the following objects and purposes:	YES
1. Construction of, or modifications to: (a) Earthen and lined flood control channels; (b) Pumping stations; (c) Dams and reservoirs; (d) Levees; (e) Culverts and bridges; (f) Aesthetic, recreation and environmental appurtenances and amenities; (g) Other necessary appurtenances to the above.
2. Permanent and temporary acquisition of property and rights of way in and/or for: (a) Construction of, or modification to provide for items listed in (1) above; (b) Materials borrow sites and spoils areas; (c) Water rights, open space, watershed preservation, ecological reserves, and flood plains; (d) Public and private utility relocations and/or modifications thereto. 3. Participation in joint Federal and/or State projects for providing flood control facilities and assuming the obligations created thereby. 4. Expenses incidental to the foregoing.	NO

SECTION 3. (a) This Board of Supervisors does hereby submit to the qualified electors of Flood Control Zone No. 1 of the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District at said special election the said measure for the issuance of said bonds, and hereby designates and refers to said measure in the form of ballot hereinafter described for use at said election.

SECTION 4. (b) Said special bond election shall be held and conducted, the votes thereat received and canvassed, and the result thereof ascertained and determined as herein provided, and in all particulars not prescribed by this ordinance, said election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the election laws of the State of California, and only qualified voters of said Flood Control Zone No. 1 may vote thereat. The polls at the polling place hereinafter designated shall be opened at seven o'clock A.M. of said day of election and shall be kept open continuously thereafter until eight o'clock P.M. of said day of election, when the polls shall be closed, and the election officers shall thereupon proceed to canvass the ballots cast thereat.

(c) Said election shall be consolidated with the School District Governing Board Member Elections called for the same day.

SECTION 4. Said issue of bonds provided for in said measure shall be in the principal amount of Four Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($4,500,000.00) and shall consist of nine hundred (900) bonds of the denomination of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) each, numbered 1 to 900, both inclusive, and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of not to exceed seven percent (7%) per annum, payable semi-annually (except that interest for the first year after the date of said bonds may be made payable at the end of said year). The part of such indebtedness which shall be paid each and every year shall be approximately one-fortieth (1/40th), or whatever other repayment schedule as may be permissible by law at the time of the sale of said bonds, of the aggregate of the whole amount of the principal and the total amount of interest to be paid over the entire term of such indebtedness.

This Board of Supervisors proposes to issue and sell bonds of said Flood Control Zone No. 1 of said District in the amount and for the objects and purposes specified in said measure if two-thirds of the qualified electors voting on such measure at said special bond election shall vote in favor of said measure. Provision is hereby made for the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds as follows, to wit: This Board of Supervisors of Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District shall, at the time of fixing the tax levy for county purposes and in the manner for such tax levy provided, levy and collect annually each year until said bonds are paid, or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of Marin County set apart for that purpose to meet all sums coming due for principal and interest on such bonds, an assessment upon all property within said Flood Control Zone No. 1 sufficient to pay the interest and such portion of the principal of said bonds as is due or to become due before the time for making the next general tax levy. Said assessment shall be in addition to all other taxes and assessments levied and assessed in said Flood Control Zone No. 1 for any purposes of said District or of said Flood Control Zone No. 1, and shall be collected together with and not separately from taxes for county purposes and, when collected, shall be paid into the County Treasury of Marin County to the credit of said Flood Control Zone No. 1 and be used for the payment of the principal and interest on said bonds and for no other purpose.

SECTION 5. Said bonds shall be issued and said indebtedness incurred for the objects and purposes set forth in said measure. Reference is hereby made to Resolution No. 73-28 of the Board of Supervisors of the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, adopted January 30, 1973, a copy of which, certified by the Clerk of this Board, is on file and recorded in the Marin County Recorder's office.

The Engineer of said District is hereby directed to prepare a map covering a general description of the work to be done, as set forth in said measure, and showing the location of said proposed work and improvement, and said Engineer is hereby directed to post said map and cause the same to be posted for at least thirty (30) days before the date of said special bond election hereby called in a prominent place in the Hall of Justice, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

SECTION 6. The estimated cost of the proposed work and improvements described in Section 5 of this ordinance is the sum of Four Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($4,500,000.00).

SECTION 7. Notice of said election shall be by publication of this ordinance prior to the date set for such election, in the Independent-Journal (which this Board finds to be a newspaper of general circulation circulated in said Flood Control Zone No. 1) for ten (10) days pursuant to Section 6062 of the Government Code, the last of such publications to be at least fourteen (14) days before said election.

SECTION 8. For the purpose of said election, there shall be and there are hereby established within said Flood Control Zone No. 1 special bond election precincts consisting of a consolidation of one or more general state and county precincts established by the Board of Supervisors of Marin County for general elections in said Flood Control Zone No. 1 with polling places and election officers as follows:

SEE: EXHIBIT "A" attached hereto.

SECTION 9. The form and contents of the ballot to be used at said special bond election shall comply with the general election laws of the State of California and shall be substantially as follows: The ballot shall be the regular Data Vote card type ballot to be used in the School District Governing Board Member Election to be held on the same date. The title shall include the following designation: SPECIAL FLOOD CONTROL ZONE NO. 1, MARIN COUNTY FLOOD CONTROL AND WATER CONSERVATION DISTRICT BOND ELECTION.

The bond measure shall read as follows:

Shall Flood Control Zone No. 1 of Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District incur a bonded indebtedness in the principal amount of $4,500,000.00 for the following objects and purposes:

1. Constructions of, or modifications to:
(a) Earthen and lined flood control channels;
(b) Pumping stations;
(c) Dams and reservoirs;
(d) Levees;
(e) Culverts and bridges;
(f) Aesthetic, recreation and environmental appurtenances and amenities;
(g) Other necessary appurtenances to the above.
2. Permanent and temporary acquisition of property and rights of way in and/or for:
(a) Construction of, or modifications to provide for items listed in (1) above;
(b) Materials borrow sites and spoils areas;
(c) Water rights, open space, watershed preservation, and flood plains; ecological reserves;
(d) Public and private utility relocations and/or modifications thereto.
3. Participation in joint Federal and/or State projects for providing flood control facilities and adssuming the obligations created thereby.
4. Expenses incidental to the foregoing?

This Ordinance, being an ordinance calling and ordering an election, shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval.

The foregoing Ordinance was passed and adopted at a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, on the 30th day of January, 1973, by the following vote, to-wit:

ONE DEAD, SIX INJURED IN NOVATO CRASH

Crowds gather in front of Our Lady of Loretto Church on Virginia Avenue in Novato yesterday, scene of a head-on, wrong-way crash which left William E. Porter, 61, of Novato, dead. Porter's body lies covered with a blanket in the right foreground. Witnesses said "there were bodies all over the place," with six persons injured in the crash. Eighteen-year-old Gregory T. Giulano, also of Novato, whose car crashed into the Porter auto, was arrested on suspicion of manslaughter following the 6:10 p.m. accident. (see story page 1.)

GM Hoping Price Rise Won't Be Forced In '73

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp. announced today it will not increase the prices of its 1973 model cars and trucks "unless forced to by major economic events."

GM, recognized as the industry trendsetter, was the first of the "Big Four" auto companies to announce such plans. Since President Nixon started Phase III of his economic program, the other firms have indicated they would eventually raise prices.

The GM announcement, made by Board Chairman Richard C. Gerstenberg at a news conference preceding a luncheon appearance before the Economic Club of Detroit, also contained a message for the contract-conscious United Auto Workers.

Gerstenberg said GM's decision to freeze prices was an "act of reasonable responsibility..that can carry us all closer to a return to economic freedom."

Report Scheduled For School Board

Sign Language Course Planned

A beginning course in how to use sign language with the deaf will start at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Strawberry on April 3 at 6:30 p.m.

Jerry K. Baker, a Southern Baptist missionary to the deaf in California, will teach the 10-week course in dactylology. Students will learn about 600 signs and can view their progress via videotape.

Vandals Damage Park Footbridge

The footbridge connecting the Louise A. Boyd Marin Museum of Science with Albert Park has been partially knocked into the water and rendered unusable.

San Rafael police reported yesterday that, according to Museum director Stephen R. Siegel, vandals had sawed through supporting beams Thursday night or early Friday morning. He estimated repair would cost $3,000.

Board Will Hear School Reports

The Fairfax School District board will hear reports on early childhood education and the district's social studies program when it meets at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow in White Hill School.

The board will also discuss staffing for 1973-74 and review reports from the district's multiuse middle school and citizens advisory committees.

Another Stabbing At Prison

According to Lee DeBord, information officer, Francis R. St. John, 30, serving one year to life for second degree robbery in Los Angeles, was cut on the right side of his face and his right eyeball.

It is not known whether he will lose the sight in his eye, De Bord said. He was reported in satisfactory condition at the prison hospital.

The stabbing happened at 8:10 a.m. on the first landing on the stairs leading to the lower yard, according to DeBord. A prison-made 12-inch knife was found in the vicinity. The prison officials have no suspects, DeBord said.

This is the third stabbing at the prison since last Monday. DeBord said he could give no motive for this stabbing because St. John has been at San Quentin only since Feb. 27 and had not gotten in with any of the gangs or been any problem to prison officers.

Fairfax Youth Is Arrested After Struggle

A Fairfax youth was arrested there today on a variety of violations following a violent struggle at his home with two Fairfax policemen.

Rory Mark Ward, 18, of 88 Canyon Road, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of speeding, resisting arrest, disturbing the peace and assault and battery. He was held to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Police said officers saw Ward behind the wheel of a car that was speeding up Dominga Drive at 50 miles per hour at about 2 a.m. today, followed him home and asked to see his driver's license. Ward refused to produce his license, police said, and began kicking officers when they placed him under arrest.

The youth was subdued after a violent wrestling bout with the two officers, according to police. He was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment of several facial cuts. One officer was treated for three sprained fingers.

More Showers Are Expected

A new rainstorm bearing cold weather in its wake today moved into Marin and Southern Sonoma counties, bringing showers expected to continue tonight.

The weatherman said rain may continue intermittently tomorrow with snow as low as 2,500 feet in the Sierra.

He also predicted a cool airmass will begin moving inland tomorrow, bringing temperatures down to the 50s in most areas.

ALMANAC

By U.P. International

Today is Monday, March 19, the 78th day of 1973 with 287 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Mars, Mercury and Jupiter.

Scottish African explorer David Livingstone was born March 19, 1813.

Also on this day in history: In 1906, the new Hotel Traymore in Atlantic City, New Jersey, published this advertisement: "Twenty-five private baths, capacity 450."

"In 1917, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that the Adamson Act was constitutional. It provided for an eight-hour work day on American railroads.

In 1920, the senate rejected the Versailles Treaty calling for a League of Nations. The measure fell seven votes short of the needed two-thirds majority.

In 1942, all men in the United States between the ages of 45 and 64, about 13 million, were ordered to register with selective service boards for non-military duty.

A thought for the day: American politician William Jennings Bryan, born on this day in 1860, once said: "The humblest citizen of all the land, when clad in the armor of a righteous cause, is stronger than all the hosts of error."

Restaurants Under Slide Opened Again

Two restaurants closed Friday by a recurrence of Sausalito's creeping landslide above Bridgeway were open again today.

H. Salt Esq. Fish and Chips, 813 Bridgeway, and Les Creps Voila, next door, reopened Saturday, some 24 hours after the slow-moving side forced their evacuation.

Bill Coyne, owner-manager of the fish and chips shop, said workmen were on the job early today in an attempt to halt the slide.

"It appears to be stable at the moment but anything can happen," he said.

Project engineer Norman Gurin waned last week that resumption of rains could cause further sliding, but Coyne said tday there is no evidence of renewed movement of the gooey mud in the wake of today's showers.

The hill first began sliding the first week in January and had forced the evacuation of the two restaurants once before.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Son's Rheumatic Fever Leaves Mother In Protection Dilemma

A mother writes: "My 8-year-old son two years ago had what our doctor called a borderline case of rheumatic fever. His sed rate was 16 and I kept him in bed for five weeks until it dropped to 5. There has been no apparent damage to the heart. He did, however, have joint pains that lasted for two days.

"The doctor advised me to take good care of the boy for a year or two and the chances are he will outgrow the danger of a recurrence. Our physician said to call him immediately at the first sign of sore throat or fever. In the last two years, he has had several shots of long-lasting penicillin, and tablets containing another antibiotic were prescribed for 10 days when he developed a cold and his throat culture was positive for strep. His sed rate has stayed down.

"NOW HOW DO I take good care of him without overprotecting him? I know how important it is to keep him well. Should he be put to bed at the first sniffle and kept home from school on rainy days? Occasionally he complains of an ache here or there. Aspirin clears it up, but still I worry."

I agree that smothering him is not the answer and he will get more out of life if you let him grow up normally. In my opinion, his borderline case of rheumatic fever received more attention than it deserved. And do not become sed-rate conscious. The following are all the precautions that are necessary.

RHEUMATIC FEVER makes the individual more susceptible to another bout. During childhood, recurrences can be prevented with continuous oral penicillin or erythromycin. If he gets a sore throat, call the physician who will take a culture. If hemolytic strep are present, full doses of these antibiotics should be prescribed for 10 days.

It is difficult to determine when prophylactic antibiotics or sulfonamides should be discontinued. Our reader's physician suggests two years, whereas other doctors continue these products thruout childhood. The obvious time to discontinue them is when the risk of streptococcal infections becomes insignificant. Partial immunity develops as the child approaches the teens. Use all available means to avoid colds and particularly keep him away from others with respiratory infections.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.

OVARY REMOVAL

K. M. writes: Why are the ovaries removed when the woman has cancer of the breast?

REPLY

Because the growth of this type of cancer is stimulated by the female sex hormones. Removal of the ovaries retards the growth and gives X-ray and other remedies a better chance to eliminate the malignancy. However, removal of the ovaries is not a routine procedure when breast cancer is found.

BLISTER ON FEET

S. A. writes: Is it true that blisters on the feet never should be opened? Once in a while I get one and would like to know what home treatment to use.

REPLY

An unopened blister rarely becomes infected. However, germs gain easy entry when the lesion is cut or pricked with a needle. Wash the area with soap and water and cover the blister with protective bandage.

PLUM BARK TEA

K. G. writes: Will wild plum bark tea cure asthma?

REPLY

No — you are barking up the wrong tree.

GAIN 10 POUNDS

A reader writes:I'd like to gain 10 pounds in three months. I must do this in order to get a job I want. How do I go about it?

REPLY

E more high caloric foods. One plan is to drink a glass of Sego between meals and at bedtime. This will increase the daily intake by 700 to 900 calaries. This product, developed for the purpose of gaining weight, was found to be more useful as a weight reducer when used instead of food. In addition, tablets such as Nilevar will help fatten you.

AGING ATLAS

A reader writes: Can muscle be built up at age 72?

REPLY

Yes, but why? Exercise keeps the joints flexible.

BILE IN BLOOD

A. K. writes: What is meant by a high icterus index?

REPLY

This is an index of the amount of bile pigment in the blood. The level is increased when the skin turns yellow (jaundice) because of disease of the gallbladder, liver, or blood.

ABDOMINAL VEINS

A reader writes: The varicose veins on my abdomen pain and twinge almost constantly. Can anything be done?

REPLY

Veins in the abdominal wall rarely enlarge unless certain venous passageways within the abdomen are blocked. In these circumstances, they serve a definite purpose and should not be disturbed. To find out, more tests should be done and, if no cause can be found, these veins can be tied off.

DIABETES

R. A. writes: What are the symptoms of diabetes? My aunt has it and I'd like to be on the lookout for it in my family.

REPLY

Typical symptoms are increased appetite, thirst, and urination. But the condition may exist for months or years before symptoms develop. Hence, it is wise to have the urine examined periodically. Be sure to maintain normal weight because diabetes often follows a period in which the individual gains too many pounds.

ORDINANCE NO. 1980
AN ORDINANCE OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN AMENDING SECTION 19.12.050 OF THE MARIN COUNTY CODE REGARDING EXEMPT BODIES OF WATER TO SWIMMING POOL FENCES

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. Section 19.12.050 of the Marin County Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

19.12.050 Exempt bodies of water. Any body of water which would otherwise be regulated by this chapter may be exempted from the provisions of this chapter if one of the following conditions is found to apply as to the location of that body of water:

(1) In an area sufficiently remote from residential areas so as not to constitute a hazard for small children; or

(2) Where terrain conditions or dense vegetation effectively prevent the passage of small children; or

(3) On the public or quasi public property intended for decorative or recreational use, including fishing and boating; or

(4) Any artificially created body of water on a parcel of land of a minimum size of two acres where that body of water is no closer than 75 feet to any property line, and has a bank slope equal to or flatter than a ratio of 6 horizontal to 1 verticle; or

(5) Decorative bodies of water less than 18 inches in depth.

Application for such an exemption shall be filed with the Board of Supervisors and shall be granted only after a public hearing, and only if it is the finding of the board that such body of water complies with one or more of the conditions set forth herein. (Ord. 1816 1, 1971: Ord. 1058 5, 1960).

SECTION II. Effective date. This ordinance shall be and is hereby declared to be in full force and effect as of thirty days from and after the date of its passage and shall be published once before the expiration of fifteen (15) days after its passage, with the names of the Supervisors voting for and against the same in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation, published in the County of Marin.

The foregoing Ordinance was passed and adopted at a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, held on the 13th day of March, 1973, by the following vote:

Tiburon Flap Brews Over Ecology Plan

By GEORGE NEVIN

The chickens have come home to roost in Tiburon. The ecology chickens, that is.

The chickens — along with goats, dairy cattle, ponds of sewage and environmental research — are in the center of a flap now brewing in Tiburon.

At issue is a plan by Tiburon architect and environmental planner Neill Smith, of 3825 Paradise Drive, to operate an ecology school and agricultural experiment on 102 acres between Tiburon Ridge and the bay on the north side of the Tiburon Peninsula.

Smith's plans have been no secret — he said he announced them at a public meeting on open space in November — but they caught several of his neighbors by surprise.

One of these, Michael Silber, of 3700 Paradise Drive, said he wasn't aware of the plans until after the Tiburon Planning Commission approved a zone change Smith needed — from residential to agricultural on Feb. 5.

Silber complained some other neighbors were informed of the meeting by post card, but neither he nor Cleon M. Arnold were told. He said both the Arnold property and his are completely surrounded by Smith's land.

(Richard J. Arjo, Tiburon's director of community development, said the city is not required to mail notices but does so as a courtesy to property owners within 300 feet of the affected land.

"It's quite possible we missed Silber," said Arjo. "Sometimes the county assessor's rolls aren't up to date." He added the city had met the requirements of law by placing a legal advertisement in the Ebb Tide, but Silber complains that neither he nor his friends read that weekly paper.)

The protesting neighbors — led by Vernon S. Dallman, chairman of the Paradise Acres Property Owners Association — showed up about 20 strong at the Feb. 26 city council meeting.

Their presence wasn't enough to persuade the council to agree with them — Councilmen voted unanimously to give Smith the zone change he needs — but it has been sufficient to cause Smith to postpone second reading on the zone change until March 26.

In the meantime, Smith said, he has set up three meetings with the residents in an attempt to straignten out their differences. "There's been a lot of misinformation about the project," he said. "I just want them to know what they're opposing."

What they're opposing is a test farm and ecology school to "help us find out all the environmental problems dealing with food production," Smith said.

Smith, who operated the now-defunct Whole Systems Recycling operation in Mill Valley, said he wants to discover "what to do with the other 90 per cent of the wastes we weren't handling."

Of Smith's 102 acres he said he wants to leave 62 either in grazing land or forested. This would be guaranteed by a contract between Smith and the city which would guarantee that it remains a greenbelt.

He said part or all of the 102 acres will be registered under the Williamson (agricultural preserve) Act, in which the landowner gets a lower tax rate in exchange for a promise to give 10 years notice before developing the land.

Part of the farming operation would involve raising chickens, cattle and goats.

On 30 acres of this (10 acres are tidelands), Smith said he wants to build 26 single-family residences, a group of small barns, and three or four other buildings for classrooms, greenhouses, research labs, storage buildings and a shop. The residences would house the school's staff and faculty.

Probably the most controversial portion of the plan is that calling for growing algae on ponds of raw or partly treated sewage. Algae grown in this manner makes excellent organic fertilizer and may be the answer to the nation's over-taxed sewage treatment facilities as well, Smith said.

On the other hand, open ponds of sewage could cause odors and some neighbors claim diseases such as encephalitis could be spread as well.

Smith acknowledged plans to experiment with sewage but said he will cover the ponds to keep odor and germs inside if his neighbors wish.

In any event, he said, the ponds will be fenced in, so another concern of residents — children accidentally falling in — would be eliminated.

No matter what Smith's actual plans are, however, some neighbors think he shouldn't be doing any large-scale construction at all.

"This is a high-class area," said association president Dallman. "The agricultural zone provides for tillage of the soil and things purely agricultural. He wants to build a college and do experimental work on solid waste. He also wants to put homes on a small portion of the property, although there's no provision for this in the zoning ordinance."

What he's doing, in sum, is "developing an industrial complex in a residential area."

Silber agrees, "This is dense development in the name of ecology. The very last place it should be is in the middle of a residential area."

Smith counters that present zoning would allow him to build more than 100 homes on the land, making a development of even greater magnitude than the one some fear.

Besides, he added, it will be about a year before plans are far enough along to apply for a use permit for the school. His current request is for zone change only.

This point was echoed by city concilmen during the first hearing on Smith's plans. Mayor Albert H. Sennett reassured the crowd the plans would be "subject to extensive city review." and Councilman Albert Aramburu said he had "no predetermined intention to approve his plans."

TREAD WEAR EXPECTANCY

Because of variable driving habits and road conditions under which tires are used, it is impractical for Montgomery Ward, and conceivably misleading to our customers, to guarantee any specific number of months or miles of tread wear. We can, however, indicate the wear potential we have built into our tires in terms of service in normal family use. If a Riverside tire wears down to the tread wear indicators during the Tread Wear Expectancy, Montgomery Ward will upon presentation of the tire and evidence of date of purchase replace the tire for the then current price less the following dollar allowance:

Vida Blue Not One To Look To Future

I must have heard Vida Blue's name mentioned 20 times this weekend. In some cases I was told outright by some fans that he has been traded to the Texas Rangers and others questioned me on what I thought of such a trade possibility.

"I heard it on the radio," said one person, and another said, "I saw it on a television newscast." He has been traded, I was assured, the only thing holding back the announcement was that the A's were waiting for a check from Texas to clear a bank.

All I could do was keep checking the wire reports about the trade rumors. Vida himself says he doesn't care whom he plays for. It seems the only thing Blue is thinking about is today.

THAT'S WHERE I think Blue, a young man of 23 summers, is going wrong. The future is very bright for Blue and he could become a very wealthy man if he settled down to pitching like he did two years ago. Then he used his arm to prove a point; now he's trying to prove it with words.

He had his big year in 1971, his first full season in the majors, and won 24 games for Oakland. He was right to expect a substantial raise the next year and after months of haggling with owner Charles O. Finley, finally signed for what was said to be a base salary of $50,000 with another $13,000 thrown in for good measure.

WELL, THE A'S, as the whole world now knows, proved to be the best baseball team in all the kingdom and the young left-handed pitcher who wanted all the cash won a grand total of six games. Since the A's won the American League western division title by 5½ games over Chicago, Blue can argue that his pitching won the championship for the A's by one-half game. Never mind the 21 games won by Catfish Hunter, the 19 games won by Ken Holtzman, or the 15 won by John Odom.

After the kind of year Blue had, most fans expected there would be no trouble when the '73 season rolled around. He would take a cut in pay and then go out and prove he was deserving of much more out of Finley's money bags. But this wasn't to be. From what I have read, it seems Vida was offered a $1,000 raise on his base salary, to $51,000, but he says there is more to it than money.

WITH THE A's, the potential of more money is always there because of the extra payoffs for division titles and pennants and then the World Series. With the Texas Rangers, you don't go there expecting to play too many World Series in the next few years. Looking at the long range picture, Blue's chances of fame and fortune rest much better in Oakland than in Texas. But I don't think Blue takes too long to look at the future. He's no squirrel putting the A's acorns in storage for the winter. He wants his steak, mushrooms, baked potato and second helpings right now.

There was talk by Blue that he was considering being a "test case" to baseball's reserve clause which binds a player to the team in which he originally signs.

It's really a shame. A pitcher with all the promise of becoming one of the great ones is acting like he doesn't really give a damn. Maybe he doesn't.

SCHAFFERS OF SAN RAFAEL

Father-Son Rallye Team

By LEW CODDINGTON

You hear a lot of talk about the generation gap these days, but there still are plenty of things a father and son can do together. Like going for a drive in the family automobile on a sunny afternoon.

And so what if that little spin is 400 miles across the desert?

George Schaffer of San Rafael and his son Bill will be doing precisely that tomorrow in the 1973 Del Webb Desert Rallye (Mint/Sahara 400).

The title sounds nice. The race itself is hot, dusty, withering, bone-jarring off-road affair winding two broad loops across the desert south of Las Vegas.

The Schaffers left Marin Friday and will be driving their trusty 1969 Ford Bronco, which has seen the course twice before. If it were human, it might rebel at seeing it again. The Schaffers were running well last year until a front wheel bearing went out, and they finished 13th, missing ninth place and the prize money by four minutes. In 1970, a sagebrush forced them to turn back.

"It's actually a great race, and a rough one," said George, 57, who has been racing off and on since 1934 and avidly since 1955. "It's a slow run, though. My favorite is Baja — you can get out and move."

The father-son team finished second in the Baja 500 over

RUGGED GAME OF BASEBALL

New York Yankee catcher Thurman Munson rolled over after trying to tag out Pittsburgh's Bob Robertson (7) at home plate Saturday in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. during an exhibition baseball game won by the Yankees, 5-4. The unidentified plate umpire ruled that Robertson was safe. Robertson had scored on a double by catcher Milt May. Seals' Owner Blasts Team

Players Respond With Win

OAKLAND (UPI) — Outspoken Charles O. Finley told off his young hockey team Saturday and less than 24 hours later they posted a rare shutout over the Minnesota North Stars.

Watching the Seals hustle and forecheck in Sunday's 2-0 win, it was apparent something, or someone, had snapped them out of their nearly season-long lethargy of winning only 11 of 71 games.

Comparing himself to a prostitute and berating his hockey players for acting like hogs, Finley talked to the Seals as an angry father for two hours. He also indicated he might sell the club to the National Hockey League.

The sports magnate, who also owns the Oakland Athletics baseball team and the Memphis Tams of the American Basketball Association, said he didn't like the rumors he heard of his hockey players demanding more money, a new team owner and a new coach.

"If there is any player who doesn't want to play on my team under my ownership, then he can pack his unblessed bag and go home," said Finley."We don't want them. And the same thing goes if they don't want to play for my coach, Fred Glover.

"The players were asking about contracts two months before the unblessed season was over. Why should i sit down with hockey players or ball players before the season is over?

Less than 24 hours after the bawling out, the Seals got goals from Joey Johnson, his 25th, and rookie Stan Weir his 14th to blank the North Stars behind goalie Gilles Meloche's 20 saves.

It was Meloche's first shutout of the season and only the Seals' second whitewash of the campaign. It was accomplished mainly on close forechecking which kept the North Stars bottled up in their own end of the ice.

Still, Finley indicated he probably would get out of pro hockey.

"I would rather turn this team over to the National Hockey League than sell it to someone else," he said. "Then the league would have to go out and stock it.

"Charlie Finley has never run away from a fight. But because of unjustified and unnecessary problems, I don't know whether I want to stay in the game.

"I'm like a prostitute. I can be had if the price is right."

Marin Tars Whip Canada In Baseball

The victory kept Marin (3-0) ahead of West Valley of Campbell (4-1) in the Camino Norte Conference standings.

Olson, a sophomore right-hander, struck out seven and gave up six hits and one earned run to win his first conference decision. He also hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning.

Bianchini hit a two-run homer in the fifth, added a triple in the ninth, and finished with three hits in five times up, as did Steve Sherry. Thompson's homer was a solo inside-the- park belt in the sixth.

Olson, Bianchini and Dom Pomilia all drove in three runs for the Tars, who pounded out seven extra-base hits.

Youth Soccer Results

Mill Valley youth soccer teams won all three games in the San Francisco Flame League yesterday, the Tams beating Westlake, 3-1, the Apollos drubbing an undermanned, seven-player aggregation from Concordia, 12-0, and Seventy-One beating the absent Olympic Club by forfeit.

IN ST. LOUIS

Indiana, UCLA Fives Play Off

Combined AP & UPI

Knight will try and overcome that handicap in the next five days as he prepares his team for Saturday's clash against UCLA in the semifinals of the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament at St. Louis. The other semifinal will pit Providence against Memphia State with the winners advancing to the finals, Monday night, March 26.

"I didn't even send a scout to the western regionals," said Knight after his Hoosiers hung a 72-65 defeat on Kentucky Saturday in the Mideast Regional Final at Nashville, Tenn. "The newspapers said we shouldn't have won the big ten and couldn't possibly get out of the regionals. I took them at their word."

If true, maybe it was just as well Knight didn't bother to scout UCLA for it is doubtful if anybody has yet discovered how to beat the Bruins. If there is a way, then it has to be one of the best kept secrets because it has eluded UCLA's last 73 opponents.

The Bruins, seeking their seventh straight NCAA crown and ninth in the last 10 years, extended their record winning streak and upped their NCAA tournament skein to 34 by beating San Francisco 54-39 in the finals of the West Regionals at Los Angeles.

Providence advanced to the semis by whipping Maryland 103-89 in the East Regional Finals at Charlotte, N.C., and Memphis State won the Midwest Regional at Houston with a convincing 92-72 triumph over Kansas State.

San Francisco, which lost to UCLA 92-64 during the regular season, switched to slowdown tactics against UCLA in the regional, but to no avail. However, the Dons' stalling strategy may have provided a clue as to how Indiana may try and

Terra Linda Loses 2 Baseball Games

Terra Linda High School played two baseball games Saturday at different times against different people, but the change of scenery didn't do any good, and the Trojans lost both times.

Terra Linda lost an afternoon game to visiting Montgomery of Santa Rosa, 2-0, and a nightcap to Berkeley, 9-1. Both were make-ups of previously rained out games.

In other action involving teams from Marin, Marin Catholic was defeated by Ukiah, 4-2, at College of Marin.

Montgomery put together two singles to score its first run in the fifth inning, and added an insurance tally in the seventh on a double and a single. Terra Linda's only threat came in the sixth, when the Trojans got runners on first and third with nobody out, but couldn't score.

Berkeley took a 3-1 lead on a two-run homer in the third, then scored six more in the seventh on three hits, three walks and an error to put the game away. Terra Linda's only run came when Buck McCusker singled and eventually stole home in the second.

Marin Catholic (2-4) gave up four runs in the first two innings on six hits and an error, then struggled back. The Wildcats scored a single run in the third on singles by Joe Ducey and Rich Speidell, and another in the seventh on a bases-loaded walk, but stranded the three baserunners.

Rancho Cotate Tips Petaluma In Baseball

Rancho Cotate High School got only two hits against host Petaluma Saturday, but that was enough as the Cougars took a 4-2 non-league baseball game.

In other Southern Sonoma high school baseball games Saturday, St. Vincent of Petaluma won both ends of a non-league twin bill over visiting Clear Lake, 9-1 and 17-6.

The Cougars bunched three of their runs in the third inning, with the big hit a two-run double by Ray Jones. Jones scored the final run on a sacrifice fly by Eric Mogel.

St. Vincent pitcher Jim Leoni worked five innings in the opener against Clear Lake and gave up just three hits while striking out 10. In the nightcap, Leoni's brother Pete was the big gun, collecting a single, double and triple to pace the Mustangs.

IN LONG BEACH SWIMMING

Backhaus Wins Four Events

LONG BEACH — Robin Backhaus of San Rafael won four events, setting meet records in three of them, in the Southern California Invitational Swimming Championships which concluded here yesterday.

Backhaus won the 200-yard butterfly in 1:51.5, the 500 freestyle in 4:34.2 and the 1,650 free in 15:48.1 for his meet records, and also captured the 200 individual medley in 1:58.0. Tc these he added a second-place finish in the 400 I.M. (4:13.4) and a fourth in the 200 free (1:44.7).

The only American record set at the meet belonged to Shane Gould, the Australian now training in Santa Clara, who did 16:36.6 in the women's 1,650 free.

Three Marin Aquatic Club swimmers besides Backhaus competed unattached in the meet, as required by Marin County Athletic League rules. Art Morrill was second in the 200 I.M. (2:00.9) and fifth in the 200 back (2:00.3) , Jeff Miller was third in the 200 breaststroke (2:16.7) and Keith

Golfer Colbert's Peale Thoughts

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Spunky Jim Colbert likes to read Norman Vincent Peale, the author of "The Power of Positive Thinking."

It's a good thing, too. Almost anybody else might have completely blown his cool after scoring bodies on four of the first five holes Sunday.

Colbert had a two-stroke lead going into the final round of the $130,000 Jacksonville Open. Then came a bungle of bogeys.

"Norman Vincent Peale says you cannot get upset by the vicissitudes of the game," said the 5-foot, 9-inch Kansas State graduate.

"I knew I was in trouble after the fifth hole (at which point he had blown to four-over par), but my true thought was that it's a good thing this is happening now because I have time to make up for it."

The hulking Wiechers, a good natured 29-year-old from Napa, Calif., had opened up two-stroke lead over the field when Colbert snaked in a 17-foot putt for a birdie on six, welcome relief for a man who had just missed a two-footer and a four-footer.

Then Colbert, a two-time winner, canned an eight-footer for another bird on the seventh and picked up another on the par 5, 10th. On the 11th, Colbert stunned his playing partners, Wiechers and Miller, by chipping in from off the green for another birdie.

It looked like he had it sewed up. But the erratic and tired Colbert three-putted the 13th and drove into the woods on 15, picking up his fifth and sixth bodies of the windy afternoon on the 7,088-yard Deerwood Country Club, where 28,000 gathered for the festivities.

The turning point came on the 16th.

"I figured the par five 16th hole was the key," said Wiechers. "If I was going to win this hole would have to be birdied. Instead, I bogeyed."

Colbert birdied, chipping out of a hazard and sinking a four-footer which put him one stroke ahead.

"It wasn't over. Colbert had a seven-foot putt to save a par on 17.

"I looked over at the leader board and saw four people right behind me," said Colbert. "I said I don't want to get in that rat race so I sank it."

"I have never seen a guy with such a crucial putt look more relaxed than he did at 17," said San Franciscan Johnny Miller.

Miller could have tied for the head if he sank a 12 foot birdie putt on 18 but he missed by inches.

"This is my most satisfying victory," said Colbert. "I was sitting on a powder keg. I did it the hard way, I had to keep my cool."

Miller had a final round of 71. Graham, Wiechers and Sikes all were even par 72. Big Jack Nicklaus finished way back at 288, his worst finish of the year.

Mexican non-roads in 1970.

The Del Webb has other incentives, such as $100,000 worth of prize money. It's a four-day affair, with vehicle inspections held yesterday; a race for the 100 or so motorcycle entries today; the battle of the 300 four-wheeled vehicles, including the Schaffer's, tomorrow; and victory banquets for the cyclists tomorrow and the four-wheeled drivers Wednesday — if they have scraped off the dust by then.

Competing in class six, "a straight production class," the Schaffers stand to win $7,200 in prize money and another $1,000 or so in accessories if they come in first. "It's the best payoff — it beats Baja," George said.

If he were in it for the prize money, though, he wouldn't be in it. "We haven't won that much," he said, "and I won't even mention the amount it takes to keep the car up."

The money comes from Schaffer's business, L. Schaffer and Company, a steel fabricating firm in San Francisco started by George's father Lorenz, now 89, in 1912.

Bill, 19, works in the shop there and first started racing seven years ago on motorcycles. He's already a veteran of the two previous Del Webbs and several other races as well.

Gymnastics Meet Set

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Cal State Fullerton will be seeking its third straight National Collegiate Athletic Association college division gymnastics title March 29-31 at San Francisco State. More than 150 nationally ranked gymnasts representing more than 20 schools will compete in the championships.

All-American Squad Spot For Strange

Terra Linda High School water polo player Keith Strange has been named to the ninth team on the American Swimming Coaches Association All-American squad, Trojan coach Chuck Metz announced today.

The achievement marks Strange as one of the 60 or so best players in the country, Metz said. Strange is the first Marin player to gain any form of national recognition.

A senior, Strange lettered in water polo four years at Terra Linda, was first team all-Marin County Athletic League twice, and was team captain and most valuable player last fall. The Trojans won MCAL titles all four years.

Though he was 10th in the MCAL in scoring last year, he was most respected for his defensive ability. "He was an all-around player," said Metz. "He usually was used on defense against the best offensive man on the opposing team."

The coaches selected 10 teams, or 70 players, for All-America recognition. Most were Californians. The first team consisted of Mike Loughlin of Buchser of Santa Clara, Joe Bottom of Santa Clara, Ed Belfanti of Campolindo of Moraga, Jed Robinson of Downey, Bruce Krumpholz of Corona Del Mar of Newport Beach, Larry Wahl of Sunny Hills of Fullerton, and goalie Jeff Duyndam of Newport Harbor in Newport Beach.

Indiana Wins In ABA Play

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Indiana Pacers are primed and ready for the American Basketball Association playoffs.

The Pacers, second in the ABA West, roared to their 10th consecutive victory Sunday as George McGinnis pumped in 25 points to spark a 119-105 rout of the Virginia Squires.

Mel Daniels added 19 points, 19 rebounds and eight assists as the Pacers roared to a 68-49 halftime lead and held on through the second half. Virginia, forced to play without injured superstar Julius Erving, was led by Bernie Williams and Neil Johnson with 18 points each.

In other ABA action Sunday, the Utah Stars edged the Kentucky Colonels 100-99, the Denver Rockets ripped the Dallas Chaparrals 122-105 and the San Diego Conquistadors rolled over the New York Nets 127-106.

Ralph Simpson's 25 points carried Denver over the Chaps

Maura Campion of the Marin A.C. finished fifth in the women's 200 I.M. (2:16.2) and swam on three relay teams which placed. They were the 400 medley team of Kim Hughes, Sue Secondo, Miss Campion and Jo Hislop, fifth in 4:13.2; the 800 free team of Miss Hislop, Miss Campion, Nancy Sawyer and Sue Kay, fourth in 8:05.3; and the 400 free team of Miss Hislop, Miss Kay, Miss Campion and Miss Sawyer, third in 3:43.4.

All the above times qualified individuals and teams for the national championships April 4-7 in Cincinnati. Other qualifiers from Marin were Kim Hughes, 200 back, 2:15.6; Warren Lager, 200 breast, 2:18.8; and Miss Campion, 50 free, 5:11.0.

NBA ROUNDUP

Celtics Survive 1st Step; 2 Goals Left

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Boston Celtics have survived the first step, but it's those other two that are tricky.

The Celtics clinched their second straight Atlantic Division championship in the National Basketball Association Sunday by beating the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 109-105 at Boston

The triumph guaranteed the Celtics the home court advantage in the Atlantic Division playoffs, but Coach Tom Heinsohn made it clear that Boston was only one-third of the way toward their season goals.

"This is just a division title," Heinsohn said. "That's just step one. Step two is winning two more games to beat out Los Angeles for the overall best record. Step three is to win the NBA championship."

The Celtics now have 61 victories with seven games to play while the Lakers, who defeated Phoenix 131-113 Sunday night, have 56 triumphs with only six games left. Finishing with the best won-lost record guarantees each player $5,000.

In other games, Portland edged New York 99-96, Baltimore whipped Philadelphia 129-118, Chicago topped Detroit 119-107, Milwaukee nipped Atlanta 105-104, Seattle defeated Houston 121-112 and Cleveland edged Buffalo 102-101.

Paul Silas sparked the Celtics' victory with 24 points and 21 rebounds while John Havlicek contributed 28 points. Nate Archibald of the Kings, the league's leading scorer, had 35 points.

Jim McMillian tossed in a career high 42 points to spark the Lakers' triumph. Jerry West also contributed greatly to the victory by scoring 15 points in he fourth quarter when the Lakers turned the game around. Charlie Scott hd 35 points for Phoenix.

Geoff Petrie scored 34 points and Sidney Wicks added 25 points and 18 rebounds as the Trail Blazers came from behind to beat the Knicks. The Blazers trailed by 10 at halftime but blitzed the Knicks, 31-16, in the third period. Earl Monroe topped the losers with 18 points.

Archie Clark's 27 points led Baltimore past Philadelphia, which dropped its 69th game of the season; Norm Van Lier's 24 points sparked Chicago's triumph; Kareem Abdul-Jabbar sparked Milwaukee's victory with 22 points and 20 rebounds; Spencer Haywood tallied 38 points in Seattle's triumph and Barry Clemens' 13 fourth quarter points paced Cleveland's fourth victory in a row.

WHA ROUNDUP

2 Teams In Critical Road Wins

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Ottawa Nationals and New York Raiders scored critical road victories Sunday night to bolster their playoff hopes in the World Hockey Association.

Ottawa visited West Division leader Winnipeg and handed the slumping Jets their fifth consecutive loss 4-2 while New York edged the Houston Aeros 3-2 on Ken Block's goal at 4:18 of a sudden death overtime.

The Raiders thus climbed into third place in the East with 68 points while Ottawa moved into a fourth place tie with Philadelphia, each with 66 points. Quebec, in last place, is only three points farther back.

Bob Leduc and Steve King scored in the first period to give Ottawa a 2-0 lead only to have Larry Hornung and Bobby Hull retaliate for the Jets early in the second period But Rich Cunningham scored what proved to be the winning goal for the Nationals with only 1:45 left in the second period and Tom Martin scored into an empty net with eight seconds left in the game.

Ron Ward scored his 48th goal at 3:54 of the third period to give the Raiders a 2-2 tie, then he assisted on Block's winning goal in overtime. The loss prevented Houston from overtaking Los Angeles for second place in the West.

Corte Madera Creek Sailing Classes Set

Basic and advanced sailing classes co-sponsored by the Corte Madera Recreation department and the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross start Saturday.

The classes are open to anyone from 11 years old and up, and are held on the Corte Madera Creek near the Corte Madera corporation yard on Lucky Drive on Saturday, basic from 9 a.m. to noon, advanced from 1 to 4 p.m.

Murphy Is Haunting Old NHL Teammates

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The bartering of bodies is always a hazardous aspect of professional sports. In the case of Mike Murphy, it is proving darn foolhardy.

Early last season, the Rangers traded Murphy from their Omaha farm club to St. Louis. Murphy responded by scoring his first two National Hockey League goals in a game in New York, and he went on to register an even 20 in his rookie campaign.

Two weeks ago, the Blues sent Murphy back to New York. After going without a goal in his first seven games, he reacted to the sight of his former St. Louis teammates Sunday night by knocking home his first two goals in a Ranger uniform, giving New York just enough margin to beat the Blues 3-1.

"It's about time I did something," said the 22-year-old wing. "There are so many good players here that I wanted to prove I belonged. You have to prove yourself before you get accepted. Stemmer (Pete Stemkowski) and (Ed) Giacomin both told me I should shoot the puck more. That was the difference. Tonight I had the shots."

Stemkowski assisted on both of Murphy's goals, which came in the first period, and to add another ironic twist to Murphy's story, he got the first one by skating around Jack Egers. Egers was involved in the trade that sent Murphy to St. Louis and the two were linemates with the Blues.

By snapping a two-game losing streak, the Rangers were able to remain two points behind second-place Boston in the East division as the Bruins whipped the Atlanta Flames 7-1. The duel for the fourth and final playoff berth in the East remained deadlocked as the Detroit Red Wings upset the Chicago Black Hawks 2-0 in the nationally televised game and the Buffalo Sabres beat the Toronto Maple Leafs 5-1.

In the West, the Philadelphia Flyers narrowed their deficit tc two points behind second-place Minnesota by gaining a 4-4 tie against the Montreal Canadiens after the North Stars dropped a 2-0 decision to the California Golden Seals.

Mrs. Bailey Defeated In City Golf

"I played about as well as I can play that course, but she's one of the best women golfers I've ever played with."

Those were the words of Melinda Bailey of Novato after she was defeated by Liana Zambresky of Pebble Beach yesterday, 2 and 1, in the semi-finals of the San Francisco City Amateur golf championship at Harding Park.

Miss Zambresky will meet 13-year-old Lauren Howe of Fairfield, youngest player ever to make the finals, next Sunday.

Miss Zambresky started her match against Mrs. Bailey with a double bogey, but steadied to go ahead by three after eight holes. Mrs. Bailey won the ninth with a birdie and the 10th and 12th with pars to even the match.

"The turning point was on 15, when I got a par and she had an eight-footer for a par," said Mrs. Bailey. "She sank it to halve the hole, and then she won 16 and 17. It's one of the best matches I've ever played, though."

The men's championship was won by Gilberto Torres, 31-year-old San Jose schoolteacher, who demolished airline worker Frank Mazion yesterday 6 and 5, as Maxion frequently gambled for birdies and ended up with bogies.

McKinney Worrying A's Bando

MESA, Ariz. (UPI) — Newcomer Rich Mckinney is making Oakland A's captain Sal Bando slightly nervous.

Bando, the regular third baseman, was given a day off Sunday and McKinney took over at third base against the Cleveland B team at Tucson. Then Bando got uneasy on the bench.

McKinney, acquired last winter from the New York Yankees in the Matty Alou trade, drove in four runs, scored once and cracked three hits, including two doubles. He drilled a two-bagger with the bases loaded to send home three runs in the seventh inning that lifted the A's to a 7-5 win.

A combination of bad-hop infield singles paved the way for five Cleveland runs off Abbott in the first inning.

Oakland bounced back with three runs in the third, aided by an error by Indian shortstop Jack Heidemann on an apparent double play ball. Then McKinney and Billy Conigliaro followed with run-scoring hits.

Indiana To Face UCLA In Playoff

In using the slowdown strategy, the Dons benched forward Byron (Snake) Jones, while starting their sixth man, John Boro. Boro, a 6-foot guard who graduated from Redwood High School, contributed two free throws while directing the attack. Boro was apparently inserted in the lineup to give the Dons' a three-guard offense, working with Phil Smith and Mike Quick. Boro played the entire game.

"It's the only way to play UCLA," said Bob Gaillard, coach of San Francisco. "A great running team could play them straight up but we're not a great running team. That's why I think Indiana is the only team left this season that can beat UCLA — if it's to be done. It will take a lot of discipline and Indiana has that. Memphis State and Providence are strictly running clubs and I don't believe they could do it."

Wooden agrees with Gaillard that Indiana will probably try and slow things down against the Bruins.

"We're not going to St. Louis to see the arch," was Dave Gavitt's comment afer his Providence crew destroyed Maryland. "If you think you can't beat UCLA, you shouldn't go to St. Louis."

Before worrying about UCLA, Gavitt and the Friars will have to contend with Memphis State, which in the words of Tiger coach Gene Bartow, couldn't play any better than it played against Kansas State.

With Player of the Year Bill Walton double and often triple-teamed by San Francisco, Larry Farmer, Keith Wilkes and Tommy Curtis scored in double figures to pick up the offensive slack for UCLA.

Ernie Digregorio's 30 points before fouling out midway through the second half powered Providence past Maryland while Larry Finch's 32 tallies carried Memphis State by Kansas State.

First round activity in the National Invitational Tournament at New York concludes tonight with Minnesota meeting Rutgers and Manhattan opposing Alabama. In Sunday's opening round games, Fairfield upset Marshall 80-76 and Virginia Tech surprised New Mexico 65-63. In first round contests Saturday, North Carolina whipped Oral Roberts 82-65, Massachusetts upset Missouri 78-71, Louisville topped American University 97-84 and Notre Dame managed to get by Southern California 69-65.

FOR GIANTS

Impressive Playing By Goodson, Arnold

PHOENIX (UPI) — Ed Goodson and Chris Arnold are working hard and successfully to find a spot on the San Francisco Giants roster.

They combined their bat talents Sunday and helped the Giants come from behind with two runs in the ninth inning to pull out an 8-7 Cactus League victory over the Chicago Cubs.

But pitchers Juan Marichal and Ed Figueroa, a rookie, had moments of wildness that nearly cost the Giants two ballgames in two days. The Oakland A's raked Marichal for six runs and eight hits over the first five innings Saturday en route to a 7-2 victory.

Figueroa was clubbed for five runs by the Cubs in the sixth inning Sunday to create a 6-6 deadlock. Chicago went ahead in the eighth against Don Carrithers on a walk, a force, a stolen base and a wild pitch.

Pinch-hitter Chris Arnold, who is trying to make the transition from utility infielder to catcher, led off the ninth with a single and took second on an outfield bobble. Gary Matthews tripled over centerfielder Rick Monday's head to tie the score.

Veteran Juan Pizarro then purposely walked pinch-hitter Jim Ray Hart and Jeff Mason to load the bases. Goodson, hoping to be Willie McCovey's stand-in at first base, ripped a single over second base to send home the winning run.

How Warriors Fell To Knicks' Surge

OAKLAND (UPI) — Nate Thurmond was woozy and Jim Barnett was tired.

It helped add up to a sterling 117-108 comeback win for the New York Knicks before 9,113 Saturday night at the ColiseumArena. And the defeat probably meant the Warriors will play the Los Angeles Lakers in the first round of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Thurmond sat out the contest with a headache and four stitches in his chin from a bad encounter with a Seattle player on Friday night.

Clyde Lee and rookie George Johnson took over for Thurmond, but Lee was saddled with four fouls in the first half after playing admirably. Johnson played well in the entire third quarter but guys like Dave DeBusschere and Earl Monroe kept slipping inside on the big rookie for baskets.

Golden State watched a 17-point lead in the second period evaporate in the second half behind the shooting of Monroe and the dazzling floor play of guard Walt Frazier.

Monroe scored seven of his team-high 21 points in an 18-8 Knicks' spurt down the stretch. Frazier finished with 16 points, four assists and a team-high 13 rebounds.

Barnett helped give the Warriors their early lead by tallying 19 points in the first half. But Barnett and other Warriors appeared too pooped to run in the second half and Barnett never got another point.

"Some of the guys couldn't run any more," said Coach Al Attles. "Jim was completely exhausted."

The loss left Golden State with 45 victories and six games remaining. The Chicago Bulls have 49 wins and five games left. Unless the Warriors win more games than the Bulls, they will open the playoffs with the Lakers.

If Golden State finishes with more victories than Chicago, then the Warriors will take on Milwaukee in the opening round.

Seattle comes to the Coliseum-Arena Tuesday night and the Bucks pay a call on Thursday night.

West, Pontius Win Cup Golf

Marshall West and Don Pontius won spots outright in the 18-hole National Cup Golf Tournament qualifying at San Geronimo National Golf Course Saturday.

West shot 79-8—71 to win the 0-9 handicap group, while Pontius fired 101-22—79 to win the 18-and-over handicap group. Both will join club pro Wayne Wallick in the National Cup involving representatives of the various National courses April 5-6 at Sonoma National.

Donald Orosco and Stewart Moir each shot 89-16—73 and will have to play off at a later date for the spot in the 10-17 handicap group.

Linfield, Sonoma Nine Tomorrow

With two victories over Southern Oregon College yesterday, Sonoma State College raised its 1973 baseball record to 5-4 — the first time the Cossacks have been over the .500 mark in two years.

Tomorrow, the Cossacks will be facing their toughest test of the year when they host Linfield College of Oregon in Rohnert Park at noon. Linfield was the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics baseball champion in 1970, and will field a contender again this year.

Tomorrow

Baseball — Analy of Sebastopol at St. Vincent High School, McNear Park in Petaluma, 3:30 p.m.; Tomales at Cloverdale, 3:30 p.m.; Linfield College at Sonoma State College, noon.
Swimming — Rancho Cotate at Petaluma, 3:30 p.m.

Wednesday

Two Marin Cage Teams In Finals

Two of five Marin County teams reached the finals of the Northern California Catholic Youth Organization (CYO) basketball tournament held Saturday and Sunday at College of Marin and Drake High School.

St. Rita's (Fairfax) fourth grade team and St. Anthony's (Ginacio) fifth grade team made it to the finals yesterday, but St. Sebastian's (Greenbrae) sixth graders lost to St. Apollinaris (Napa), 44-19; St. Anselm's (San Anselmo) seventh graders lost to St. Bernard's (Tracy), 58-47, and Blessed Sacrament (Santa Venetia) eighth graders lost to eventual champion St. Elizabeth's (Oakland), 59-47.

Final Games

Fourth Grade — St. Bede (Hayward) 27, St. Rita's (Fairfax), 7.
Sixth Grade — St. Joseph's (Fremont) 41, St. Apollinaris (Napa) 39.
Seventh Grade — Our Lady of the Rosary (Union City) 42, St. Bernard's (Tracy), 39.
Eighth Grade — St. Elizabeth's (Oakland) 55, St. Eugene's (Santa Rosa) 50.

5 Records Broken In Seniors Track

Five world age-group track and field records were bettered yesterday in the Northern California Seniors Track Club meet at College of Marin.

Al Guidet of Petaluma ran 24.5 in the 220-yard dash and 11.0 in the 100 in the 55-and-over bracket, former Tamalpais High School principal Ken Carnine threw the two-pound, two-ounce discus 130-6½ and the eight-pound shot 37-7¼ in the 65-and-over bracket, and San Rafael policeman Jack Rose high-jumped 5-9¾ in the 30-and-over bracket.

Sonoma Mark Set In High Jump

Jim Marchbanks set a school record Saturday, but it was not enough as Sonoma State College finished last in a triangular track and field meet with Humboldt and Hayward State colleges in Rohnert Park.

Humboldt won the Far Western Conference meet with 106 points, followed by Hayward with 77 and Sonoma with 28.

Speedy Dodgers Vow To Steal

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

It looks as if National League catchers will have to stay very loose when playing against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Los Angeles speedsters stole seven bases in seven attempts Sunday and rolled to a 6-0 victory over the Houston Astors. Lee Lacy went 4-for-4 and stole two bases and Willie Davis had three steals while Don Sutton and Eddie Solomon combined to shut out the Astros. Willie Crawford had three runs batted in for Los Angeles with two singles and a sacrifice fly.

"You're going to see a lot more of this," said shortstop Bill Russell, one of the quickest of the Dodgers. "We're going to run like the Dodgers of old. We've got a lot of youth and we've got a lot of speed. We're not going to be shy on the bases, that's for sure."

In other action, Jack Brohamer's two-run single highlighted a six-run seventh inning as the Cleveland Indians whipped the California Angels 11-7 and Ed Goodson drove in the winning run in the ninth inning as the San Francisco Giants outlasted the Chicago Cubs 8-7. Cubs' ace right-hander Ferguson Jenkins was rocked for six runs in the fifth inning.

Mike Epstein tripled in one run and Alex Johnson followed with a homer as the Texas Rangers beat the Atlanta Braves 5-1 and Dave Concepcion drove in three runs with a double and two singles as the Cincinnati Reds beat the New York Mets 8-3. Nate Colbert, San Diego's home run king, hit his first of the spring in the Padres' 7-1 triumph over the Milwaukee Brewers and Joe Torre and Bernie Carbo had homers and St. Louis scored six runs in the sixth enroute to a 9-8 victory over the Chicago White Sox..

Doug Griffith and George Mitterwald each singled in two runs during a six-run sixth as the Minnesota Twwins ripped the Boston Red Sox 9-1 and Pittsburgh erupted for three runs in the sixth to beat the Baltimore Orioles 7-4.

Keith Marshall's 10th inning double drove in Amos Otis with the winning run and gave the Kansas City Royals a 3-2 victory over the Montreal Expos and the New York Yankees scored 10 runs in two innings and beat the Detroit Tigers 10-6.

Space Available On Bus To Seals' Game

Room is still available on the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department's bus trip to the Oakland Coliseum Arena next Friday to see the California Golden Seals hockey team play the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The bus is scheduled to leave Albert Park and Terra Linda High School at 6:30 p.m. and return at 11 p.m. Boys and girls aged 9-12 are eligible, and the cost is $3.50 per person. Reservations and information may be obtained at the department's office, 1400 Fifth Avenue.

Sonoma State '9' Takes Pair From Southern Oregon

Sonoma State College proved a poor host to Southern Oregon College yesterday at Doyle Park in Santa Rosa, winning both ends of a non-league baseball doubleheader by the same score, 4-3.

The twin victories betters the Cossacks' non-league season record to 5-4.

The winning run in the second game was not quite so dramatic as Rich Garretson scored on a walk, a throwing error, a ground out and a wild pitch.

Gridder Holmes In Arraignment

Combined AP & UPI

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio — Pittsburgh Steelers' defensive tackle Ernie Holmes was to be arraigned tonight on three counts of assault with intent to kill in connection with the wounding of a police helicopter pilot and other shooting incidents Friday.

Holmes was charged Saturday and held in Mahoning County Jail. Bond was set at $45,000. Arraignment was scheduled tonight in Mahoning County Court in suburban Austintown.

The 6-3, 250-pound Holmes was charged with wounding Ohio Highway Patrolman Larry Myers, 36, of Columbus, in the leg. He was also charged with assault attempts on Gerald Napi, a patrol investigator, and Bill Johns, a Mahoning County sheriff's detective.

Holmes was caputed in rural Trumbull County near Salem township. The search began after semi-trailer truck drivers told police they had been fired at on two interstate highways in Northern Ohio by the driver of a late model luxury car. The car was found abandoned.

After his victory in the 811-mile race, Turner was told that Lightnin had been chosen along with two of the competing yachts to represent the United States in the Admiral's Cup Race at Cowes, England, April 3. Wally Frank's Salty Goose and Jesse Philips' Charisma were chosen as the other two Admiral's Cup boats.

Lightnin took five days, 10 hours, 47 minutes and 36 seconds elapsed time to finish the course, but logged a corrected time of three days, 14 hours, nine minutes and seven seconds.

Boxing

Dundee sent a telegram to Foreman's manager Dick Sadler yesterday offering $1 million if Foreman will defend his title against Ellis, a former heavyweight champ, in the Miami Beach Convention Hall "any Tuesday in May or June."

This was Dundee's third offer for a Foreman-Ellis title bout, following bids with $500,000 and $600,000 guarantees.

Yachting

Golf

SEMINOLE, Fla. — Sandra Haynie put together five birdies yesterday to come from four strokes off the pace to win the $25,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association, Orange Blossom Classic.

Haynie finished the 54-hole tournament with a 72-75-69—216 to take the $3,750 first prize.

Tennis

RICHMOND, Va. — Margaret Court trounced 19-year-old Janet Newberry of La Jolla, 6-2, 6-1 to win the championship of the Virginia Slims International Tennis Tournament yesterday.

HINGHAM, Mass. — Evonne Goolagong of Australia yesterday bested England's Virginia Wade, 6-4, 6-4, in the finals of the $20,000 USLTA national indoor tournament.

Auto Racing

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. — Relinquishing the lead only once despite a last minute pit stop under a caution flag, David Pearson cruised to victory in the Carolina 500 yesterday, averaging 118.6 m.p.h. in a Mercury.

Bowling

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

How To Declare Expenses If Car Is Used In Your Business

Do you use your car for business purposes or for charitable purposes or for medical purposes?

If you do, you can claim your expenses for the use of your car on a flat mileage basis rather than having to compute depreciation, gas, oil, tires, etc., and then divide this between business and personal.

This is the way it works: For business use, you are allowed 12 cents per mile for the first 15,000 business miles and nine cents per mile for every business mile thereafter.

You only keep a record of the business miles traveled for your car, but like every other record you keep, you must be able to substantiate the fact that the car was used for business and the number of miles traveled.

You cannot use this system and also claim depreciation on your car.

You cannot use this system if you have previously taken extra first year depreciation allowance on your car or if you have previously depreciated by one of the accelerated methods.

If you are reimbursed for the business use of your car by your employer and this reimbursement is less than 12 cents per mile, you may include the reimbursement in income and deduct the 12 cents per mile up to the first 15,000 miles and nine cents per mile thereafter.

If your reimbursement is in excess of 12 cents a mile, but not more than 15 cents a mile, you wouldn't want to use this system as you do not have to account for your automobile expense because you are considered to have accounted to your employer for the expenses. If your reimbursement is in excess of 15 cents a mile, you will have to include the reimbursement in income and itemize your automobile expenses.

You can use this system and in addition deduct parking fees and bridge tolls. You may also deduct interest paid on the purchase of the car.

If you use your car for charitable work such as soliciting funds for the United Fund, carrying children back and forth to Sunday School, doing work for the hospital or traveling from home to the place where you render personal services to a charity for which you are not reimbursed, you can deduct six cents per mile for the charitable use of your car.

If you use your car for medical transportation, you can increase your medical expense deduction by six cents per mile for such use of your car.

In both of these cases you can also deduct bridge tolls, parking fees, etc. You must, of course, be able to prove that you actually used your car and the actual number of miles traveled.

You can never deduct fines for parking and traffic law violations.

McCloskey Seen For Cyprus Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Diplomatic sources say Robert J. McCloskey, the State Department's official spokesman for several years, will soon be named U.S. ambassador to Cyprus.

The State Department had no immediate comment on the weekend report. McCloskey, 49, is currently deputy assistant secretary of state for press relations.

Bel Marin Keys Eyes Lagoon Work

Residents of Bel Marin Keys have indicated they may be willing to raise an additional $30,000 to have their lagoon dredged deeper.

At an adjourned meeting Thursday, directors of the community service district arranged a compromise between lagoon residents and those who live alongside Novato Creek outside the lagoon locks.

The creekside residents earlier complained they weren't getting enough benefit from the $700,000 dredging project and lock construction, financed by a bond issue. The contractor said if he had to dredge closer to the creekside docks, it would cost another $30,000.

Betty L. Zoeller, district secretary, said district residents agreed to have the contractor do the additional work in the creek, and to devise means of financing to have the lagoon dredged to its planned depth.

The bank of America bought the $700,000 bond issue on Thursday at an interest rate of 6.0303 per cent, Mrs. Zoeller said.

What Do Many Doctors Use When They Suffer Pain Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues?

Exclusive Formula Gives Prompt, Temporary Relief In Many Cases from Such Pain. Also Helps Shrink Swelling of Such Tissues Due to Infection.

In a survey, doctors were asked what they use to relieve such painful symptoms. Many of the doctors reporting said they either use Preparation H themselves or in their office practice.

Preparation H gives prompt, temporary relief for hours in many cases from pain, itching in hemorrhoidal tissues. And it actually helps shrink painful swelling of such tissues when infected and inflamed. Just see if doctor-tested Preparation H® doesn't help you. Ointment or suppositories.

Panel Proposes Combining Jobs Of Nixon Chiefs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One man should fill the jobs of secretary of state and presidential adviser for national security affairs, a private study panel has recommended.

William P. Rogers and Henry A. Kissinger now hold the jobs. But the 22-member Foreign Policy Panel of the United Nations Association of the United States suggested in a report issued over the weekend that combining the jobs would improve coordination between Kissinger's National Security Council (NSC) and the State Department.

The report said the State Department is "a great and under-utilized resource" that "can and should be revitalized."

New Industrial Park Planned Along Francisco Boulevard

A new industrial park comparable to Northgate Industrial Park is planned along Francisco Boulevard, south of Bellam Boulevard on the bay side of the road to San Quentin.

Called Bahia de Rafael Industrial Park, it will be developed by McKeon Construction Co., which will put in 76 lots on 50 acres for such uses as warehousing, storage, light manufacturing, and certain types of retail and office use.

Charles Nygren, project coordinator, said he hopes to have some of the lots ready for sale this summer. Nygren can be reached at the McKeon Construction Co. office at 1050 Northgate Drive, San Rafael.

McKeon Construction Co. has also completed 263 townhouses and 224 four-plexes in the same area, along Kerner and Bellam Boulevards. The new industrial park will be to the south of the Bahia de Rafael townhomes and four-plexes.

MARELLI BROS. shoe repair, which has been located at 1316 Fourth Street in San Rafael for 52 years, will move next door this week to new and bigger quarters at 1318 Fourth Street.

The shoe repair shop, first started in 1921, will take over the space formerly occupied by Lydon's Marin Orthopedic, which closed last year. The new location will give the shoe repair shop about double its present space.

Marelli Bros. was founded by the late Louis Marelli and his brother, Charles Marelli, who lives in San Rafael. Their sons, Michael and Harold Marelli, now operate the thriving business.

GEORGE A. THOMPSON of Novato has been named general manager of the San Francisco-based Redwood Inspection Service, which establishes redwood grading rules and supervises grading of redwood lumber.

Thompson has almost 20 years of experience in the lumber industry. Before joining Redwood Inspection Service in 1969, he was secretary-manager of the American Lumber Standards Committee in Washington, D.C.

Daniels

CHARLES I. (CHUCK) DANIELS, president of Golden Gate Distributing Co. in San Rafael, has been re-appointed to the advisory board of the California Beer Wholesalers Association.

Daniels is former president of the association. His company is the local distributor of Coors beer and Rainier ale.

MOREY'S JUNIOR BOOT Shop at 1414 Fourth Street in San Rafael is under negotiation for a possible change in ownership.

The junior shoe shop was purchased last year from Gary Morey by Howard and Mary Richcreek of Belvedere. Prospective new owners are reported to be Howard Rice of San Mateo and Clifford Johannsen of Redding, who operate Johannsen's Shoes for Children in San Mateo, and also operate the Children's Boot Shop on Grant Avenue in Novato.

REALTORS BREAKFAST — Louis W. Niggeman, chairman of the board of Fireman's Fund American Insurance Companies, will speak at tomorrow's breakfast meeting of the Marin County Board of Realtors at 8 a.m. at the Corte Madera Lions Club.

The meeting is hosted by the Women's Council of the Board of Realtors.

WESTERN WATERBEDS Inc. of 1328 Fourth Street in San Rafael announced the appointment of Nancy B. Frank as store manager.

Mrs. Frank, owner of La Boutique gift shop at 42 Main Street in Tiburon for the past eight years, will continue as owner-buyer of La Boutique. Mrs. Wylie Weeks runs the Tiburon shop for her.

Exiles Claim Holding Two Cuba Fishermen

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI) — A Cuban exile group claimed today it had rescued and was hiding two Cuban fishermen who, after being denied U.S. asylum, jumped overboard Sunday night while the Coast Guard was towing their boat back toward Havana.

The Coast Guard declined comment on the Cuban exile claims and said it was continuing to search Key West harbor for the two fishermen who jumped overboard after a Coast Guard boat had towed the 61-foot Cayo Largo about a mile away from port.

The Cuban fishermen, identified as Caridad Perez and Orlirio Hernandez, tried unsuccessfully to hijack the Cuban fishing boat to Mexico.

But a leaky fuel line disabled the vessel in the Gulf of Mexico south of Fort Myers and the pair surrendered to seven other crewmen aboard the Cayo Largo. The Coast Guard towed the disabled boat to Key West Tuesday.

Tomas Cruz, coordinator of the Miami-based Executive Committee of Liberation, said members of his organization rescued Hernandez and Perez Sunday night and put them "safely in hiding."

Cruz said the defectors will be kept in hiding "until the United States guarantees they won't be returned to Cuba."

The aborted hijacking put the U.S. State Department in a tough diplomatic situation.

Under terms of the recently signed antihijack treaty with Cuba, the United States could not grant asylum to the pair for fear of nullifying the pact.

Although the State Department has refused to comment on the case, government sources said both Perez and Hernandez had asked for political asylum shortly after the Cayo Largo was towed here by the Coast Guard.

But government sources said because of the precarious nature of the antihijack treaty, Perez and Hernandez were "strongly discouraged" in their attempts to seek asylum.

"Frankly," a government source said, "we wish the Coast Guard had not towed the fishing boat into U.S. waters."

Joan Baez Wins German Applause

ESSEN, West Germany (UPI) — Some 4,000 folk music fans cheered Joan Baez at a concert in Essen's Gruga hall Saturday night when she sang "The Day They Drove Old Dixie Down."

Miss Baez sang a series of songs about love, peace, the Vietnam war and other topics and told newsmen later that "music without politics is worthless."

CRUSADE CHAIRMAN — Richard D. Puntillo, a senior vice president of Redwood Bank, will lead fund raising among business and professional groups during the April crusade of the American Cancer Society's Marin County unit.

Justice Department Leader Is Chosen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Donald L. Santarelli, 35, of Hershey, Pa., will be named to head the Justice Department Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA.)

Officials reported the appointment over the weekend, saying Santarelli would succeed Jerris Leonard, who resigned to enter private law practice. The LEAA administers federal aid for state and local law enforcement projects.

Israel Aide Says U.S. Supplying More Planes

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Israel will receive more warplanes from the United States and has developed a new assault rifle, a senior military official said today.

The official said that if the Soviet Union plans to supply Egypt with the advanced MIG23, as reported in Beirut, the new weapons will not radically alter the balance of power in the Middle East.

"Don't forget, too, that we are receiving more planes," the official said. He did not specify how many, what types or when they would be delivered.

Reports in the United States said the Nixon administration had agreed to give Israel 24 F4 Phantom fighter-bombers and 24 A4 Skyhawks during a two-year period. The reports were published shortly after Prime Minister Golda Meir returned from a 12-day visit to the United States.

The official said a report in the U.S. armed forces magazine Military Review that Israel had developed an assault rifle called the Galeel was true.

"We have a new rifle," he said.

The newspaper Haaretz said the magazine described the rifle as weighing slightly less than nine pounds with a caliber of 5.56 like the American M16, an effective maximum range of 600 yards and an ability to fire 650 rounds a minute.

Dancing Horses Wouldn't Work

MOSCOW (UPI) —The famous Bolshoi theater gave up using Moscow Circus horses in its operas because they often started dancing when they heard the music, the newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda said Sunday.

Moscow police horses proved too shy for the footlights, the newspaper said, so the Bolshoi now uses race horses.

WARDS BIGGEST BARGAIN OF THE WEEK
WHILE THEY LAST!

The truck is halfway down on the left.

To begin with, we've added a whole new Chevelle series. Laguna.

Then we've taken one of Chevelle's long-standing long suits—its ride and handling—and we've actually improved it. We've redesigned the Full Coil suspension around a new, wider stance so that what we deliver is just what we've been promising: an even better way to see the U.S.A.

GM MARK OF EXCELLENCE

Chevelle SS Coupe. Sportiest Chevelle of all.
